BLEASE SAYS DOPE JOINTS FLOURISH NEAR NATION'S CAPITOL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (AP) — An assertion that "four narcotic joints" were operating near the capitol on Pennsylvania avenue and that this was known to "people whose duty it is to stop it" was made in the senate today by Senator Blease, democrat, South Carolina.

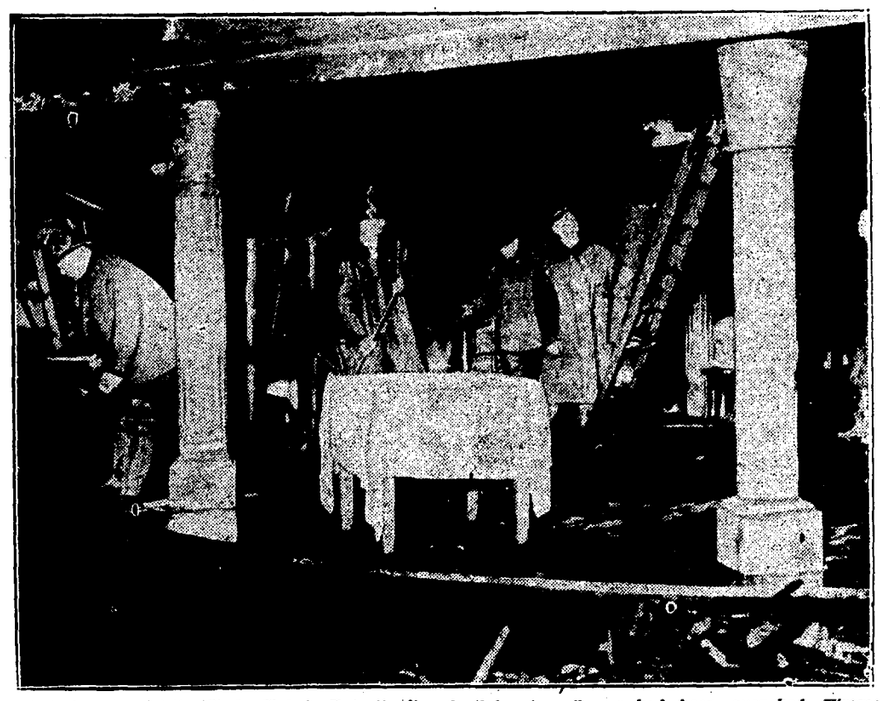

Blease made these statements while speaking in opposition to a committee agreement to the tariff bill to eliminate a house provision to extend the liability to owners of vessels for unmanifested smoking opium found on board.

Blease said the cases of four persons suspected of narcotic law violation were presented to the grand jury for action here last July and no action has yet been taken.

There was reason to believe, he asserted, that some higher up was preventing grand jury action. He added that local authorities were making no narcotic arrests, and federal enforcement agents also were lax because they were put-

AUSTIN, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Chafing at her restraint in the Travis county jail since Friday on a charge of murder growing out of the death of her husband, Mrs. J. S. Her husband died September 11, and an analysis of his somach, Kleberg county officials said, showed traces of poisoning. Mrs. Long denied connection with her husband's death.

Officers were told by the woman Long had eaten a light lunch after feeling ill. She said she had gone to visit neighbors and upon returning found the man unconscious with an empty bottle containing the seal of a harmless medicine nearby. An examination revealed he was dead.

Sheriff White was informed Kleberg county officers had started Friday for Austin to return the woman to her home, but none had arrived today, and Sheriff White had received no further communications.

ADMITS MAN HAD BEEN USED AS PROPAGANDIST ON ANOTHER OCCASION

WASHINGTON Sept. 23.—(AP)—S. W. Wakeman, vice president of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation testified before a senate investigating committee today he had engaged William H. Shearer to attend the 1927 Geneva naval conference for the purpose of reporting events that happened there.

Wakeman was the first witness today as the committee resumed its inquiry into activities of Shearer, whose suit in New York for approximately $300,000, which he alleges is due him for services rendered the shipbuilders, which prompted the investigation.

The Bethlehem corporation official represented his concern at the New York meeting at the time Shearer was engaged to go to the 1927 Geneva parley which broke up without an agreement on naval limitations.

Employed Shearer Before.

Previous to this meeting, Wakeman testified, the three American shipbuilding concerns had employed Shearer for $7500 to come to Washington and "write articles and make speeches to supplement the merchant marine program to the United States shipping board." That was in December, 1926.

Asked why Shearer was engaged to go to Geneva, Wakeman re-

CENTRALIZED PRISON PLANT NEAR AUSTIN BELIEVED PLAN TO BE BACKED BY COMMITTEE

BY R. W. BARRY
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

AUSTIN, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Action of the Texas prison centralization committee in getting "down to brass tacks" at Temple Saturday, in a discussion of a probable site for the new plant, indicates the legislature may dispose of the problem before Christmas.

Overwhelming sentiment in favor of voting to put the modernized central plant in Central Texas in close proximity to Austin, as cropped out at the Temple meeting, would seem to mean there will not be so much friction on this point as was at first feared.

Belief is growing in semi-official circles that whatever recommendation the centralization commission composed of the nine members of the prison board, five members of the house of representatives and four senators—makes to the legislature those suggestions will be adopted.

With the commission planning to meet next week in Houston to come to a formal agreement on the site of the proposed plant, it seemed probable the official report could be drawn and adopted within two weeks and the entire proposition put up to the governor not later than November 1. If this should prove to be the case, there would be a disposition on the part of the governor to call a special session of the legislature by November 15 and dispose of the problem.

Unless unforseen opposition should develop, it is the belief of observers that a 30 day special session could dispose of the prison concentration matter, correct the troublesome Confederate pension law to give all entitled to help some monetary relief and settle the boundary dispute between Texas and Oklahoma, three outstanding matters awaiting attention.

Governor Moody said last week that like the fellow who found a $10 bill in the pocket of a pair of discarded trousers, it was apparent the state would have more money than was anticipated when the tax rate was fixed recently. Remittance from several revenue sources showed a sharp increase, and it is probable there will be sufficient money on hand to start work on the new prison plant.

The commission at Temple planned to recommend an initial appropriation of $1,000,000 to start the wheels turning and supplement this with $500,000 annually until the modern plant is completed.

Those who have gone into the proposition have expressed surprise at the apparent ease and little expense with which the Texas prison situation may be altered. This is accounted for partly by the apparent decision to retain much of the state's farm lands for the purpose of carrying on agricultural and livestock activities supplemental to the industrial plants wthin the walls.

M'Allen Sept. 23.—(AP)—A telegram has been sent to Governor Dan Moody from nine members of the executive committee of the Hidalgo county good government league asking that he appoint an attorney general for an immediate investigation of the records of that county to ascertain if there has been a misuse of state funds.

SINCLAIR AND DAY RESENT REFUSAL TO TURN THEM LOOSE

GROW SOMEWHAT SARCASTIC AT THEIR CONVICTION FOR SHADOWING JURY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Harry F. Sinclair and Henry Mason Day, oil acssociates in jail because of shadowing of the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy jurors, contended in statements published today they should have their freedom because of the circumstances of their imprisonment.

The former, asserting his health was "as good as could be expected, under the circumstances," said his petition for clemency, denied by President Hoover, was based on the ground his sentence was imposed on him for activities which were neither illegal nor in violation of court rules.

"Observation of a jury," he remarked; "only became contempt of court when I engaged in it."

Day said he had petitioned for clemency, also denied, because he felt his continued imprisonment "was necessary to make a new rule —first established in my case— more binding, and that my past life was proof that I was a decent and useful citizen who had, to every opportunity, served his country well."

Dallas Youth Is Badly Beaten By Parties Unknown

North's last coherent statement was the gasping request: "Mister, can you please help me?" as he toppled at Bruce's feet.

The boy was removed from a hospital to his home at the insistence of his parents, respite opposition of attendants, who declared he was in a serious condition and should be kept there.

No valuables were found in his clothing, and investigators thought he had been robbed.

ONE PLANE OF FT. WORTH GOOD WILL AEROCADE LANDS IN WILD PART OF MEXICO

LAREDO, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Forced down by an empty gasoline tank, one plane of the Fort Worth good will aerocade rested on wild terrain at Soto La Marina, Mexico, today, with smashed landing gear and awaiting help, while the 16 planes from a starting group of 20 stood by here for weather reports, preparatory to pushing on to Monterrey, Mexico.

The Texas company's entrant dropped to earth Saturday night or early yesterday. Three others with which it started to ride out a rainstorm were in good order.

None of the five occupants of the Texas company ship was injured. James C. Davis, pilot of the Southwest Air service at Houston, was ordered to proceed to Brownsville and help take materials to it.

The Winged craft's pilot, Bert Pidcoke, and the passengers, his wife, her sister, Frost Lynn, chairman of service for the Texas company and Jack Hott, manager of the Fort Worth association of commerce, would be brought in, it was believed, by a regular plane of the Mexico City- Brownsville line.

Pidcoke's plane got off its course in attempting to fly against heavy rain between Corpus Christi and Brownsville. Its failure to appear at the latter point caused alarm, and six ships sought it yesterday while the aerocade halted at Brownsville until safety of the group was assured.

Hop to Monterrey

LAREDO, Sept. 23.—(AP)— After abandoning the trip to Monterrey Sunday because of a wet flying field, the remaining 16 planes in the Fort Worth aerocade took off from here this morning for Mexico City.

PANTAGES CASE IN HANDS OF JURY FIVE WOMEN, SEVEN MEN

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The trial of Mrs. Alexander Pantages on a second degree murder charge today went into its final hours. The case goes to the jury of seven men and five women after closing arguments.

Last stages of the sensational trial were expected to be replete with actiono. Prosecution threats of perjury charges against defense witnesses added to the tension of the case.

Deputy District Attorney James P. Costello said "investigation discloses the Pantages case is a mass of falsities" and one defense witness would be placed in custody to answer charges of falsifying under oath.

In a crash between Mrs. Pantages' limousine and a small sedan driven by Juro Rokumoto, Japanese gardener, the latter was killed. Mrs. Pantages was accused of being intoxicated.

SPECIAL PROSECUTOR SAYS OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR ARREST IN HOLMES ASSASSINATION

BORGER, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Dovetailing evidence obtained within the last 48 hours has developed a satisfactory trend in the investigation of the aasssination of District Attorney John A. Holmes here Sept. 13, Clem Calhoun, special prosecutor, said today.

Calhoun declined to amplify his statement. His sole additional declaration, other than that the investigation had developed a complete background for future use, was:

"Things are looking very bright."

Information from sources other than the special prosecutor, appointed by Gov. Moody, indicated Holmes' death might have resulted from a conspiracy. Holmes was known to have differed with many officers on policy, including the question of special investigators to operate under him.

When he asked the county commissioners for permission to appoint investigators, he said he intended to name Claud Smithers, unsuccessful candidate for sheriff against Joe Ownbey, and as second investigator the only man ever discharged by Sheriff Ownbey. The commissioners denied the prosecutor's request for funds with which to pay the investigators.

Four Texas Rangers, awaiting the return of Captain Frank Hamer from Austin, while working on their own leads, admitted they were depending largely for developments on a reward fund which totaled nearly $5,000. They declined to comment on Captain Hamer's statement to Gov. Moody that the situation here represented the "worst bit of organized crime" he had seen in 23 years.

Sheriff Ownbey continued to work without talking for publication. Chief Deputy Jim Crane, however, made the declaration that "if more than one person was implicated in the Holmes killing, we will catch them." He said he anticipated little success if the slaying was a "one man job."

Search for data Holmes had obtained for presentation to the federal grand jury in connection with 14 liquor arrests here in July, so far has been unsuccessful. Officers said they had found no satisfactory clues pointing to the disposal or probable present location of the data.

RESIDENTS NEAR HUALALAI VOLCANO PREPARE TO FLEE

MANY EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS FELT ON ISLAND OF HAWAIIAN GROUP

HILO, Island of Hawaii, Sept. 23.—(AP)—After 58 earthquake shocks had been felt within three hours near the extinct volcano Hualalai yesterday, residents of the North Kona district of this island today prepared to evacuate should an anticipated eruption materialize.

Repeating in series, since the tremblors were first felt Friday, the quakes have shown intensity at times, presaging, observers say, a possible eruption. They pointed out that before each of the eruptions of Kilauea this year and the explosive eruption in 1924 of the same cone continued shocks were recorded.

Saturday night the quakes started again after the island had been quiet since Friday, continued in growing intensity and reached their strongest about 2 a. m., Sunday. Between nine a. m., and noon yesterday 58 quakes were felt on Mount Hualalai.

Mount Hualalai is a long extinct volcanic cone, 8,269 feet high, situated in the North Kona district on the western side of the Island of Hawaii, amidst fields of lava from previous eruptions of the cones that stud the island. The district is sparsely settled.

JOHN COOLIDGE AND FLORENCE TRUMBULL MARRIED MONDAY

PLAINVILLE, Conn., Sept. 23.—(AP)—As the chime of wedding bells pealed by an 85-year-old sexton died out in the air, Florence Trumbull, daughter of Connecticut's governor, and John Coolidge, son of ex-President Calvin Coolidge, were married today in the white frame village Congregational church.

The ceremony took place at 4 p. m., after the chimes rung by A. H. Dresser, sexton who has sounded Plainville's festive bells for more than fifty years, has summoned guests from both notable and quiet walks of life to the services.

The simple congregational wedding service, lasting only seven minutes, was read by the Rev. Kenneth Welles, of Albany, N. Y., former pastor of the Congregational church at Northampton, Mass., in the presence of the 82 invited guests. He was assisted by the Rev. J. SLIGHT ACCIDENT MARS LOCAL VISIT FT. WORTH PARTY

NINETEEN PLANES LANDED AT LOCAL AIRPORT FRIDAY MORNING

One passenger was slightly injured and two others and the pilot narrowly escaped serious hurts when the plane bearing the colors of the Port Isabel Company, raced down the field and crashed pilotless as it prepared to take-off with other members of the Fort Worth Good Will Aerocade from the Corsicana Municipal Airport Friday morning.

Nineteen planes landed on the local field between 8:50 and 9:25 o'clock Friday morning, as the aerocade from Fort Worth made its first stop on its 1800 miles trip through Texas and Old Mexico and return.

The first ship to land was the Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil company, piloted by Buddy Jones and bearing D. W. Carlton, director of the aerocade and George D. Fredell of the oil company. The other planes arrived shortly afterward. The twentieth plane arrived shortly after the Port Isabel company Stinson crashed, and the cabin monoplane, "Miss Corsicana" also joined the aerocade here, bringing the grand total to twenty ships and eighty passengers.

Visitors Welcomed.

W. C. Stroube, chairman of the aviation committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, was master of ceremonies for an informal program staged at the airport. Mayor R. L. Wheelock officially welcomed the visitors to Corsicana, and called attention to the fact that a new direct connection with the North Texas city had been designated recently, and that it was hoped that work would be started on this project soon.

D. W. Carlton of the Fort Worth Association of Commerce, and director of the aerocade was presented and called on A. P. Barrett, president of the Texas Air Transport and Southern Air Transport units, to respond to the welcome.

Mr. Barrett complimented Corsicana on its progressive spirit, and on its representative in aviation, Pilot Charles Pedley. He then recalled pleasant personal relations with the late Gov. George T. Jester, Richard Mays, Dexter Hamilton and other citizens of Corsicana.

Mexican Consul Speaks.

R. Cantu Lara, Mexican consul for the North Texas district, was presented and offered the co-operation of his office to any visitor to the country to the south.

Miss Margaret Perry, who was forced out of the Women's Transcontinental Derby some time ago by illness was presented. She has been ill for several weeks, and still wears a bandage above one eye as a result of a slight mishap during the derby.

Hubb Diggs, chairman of the aerocade, was presented and complimented the city and its airport.

After the planes and the visitors had been photographed in front of the hangar, the planes started taking off for Houston, the next stop on the itinerary.

Plane Runs Away.

About half the ships had taken the air when the Stinson cabin plane, powered with a Wasp motor, bearing the banner of the Port Isabel Company, suddenly started down the field with a roaring exhaust denoting a full throttle. Pilot D. D. Johnson, who had been cranking the plane, made a desperate effort to cling to the ship and force his way inside, but was shaken off, and narrowly missed being run over by the tail group as he lay prostrate. A few seconds later another passenger jumped from the swiftly moving plane, and spectators realized that what had been thought to be "horseplay" was assuming proportions of a potential tragedy.

The plane continued its swift rush toward the north end of the field, veering slightly to the east and narrowly missing the Spartan of Miss Perry's that was taking to the north end of the field for the take-off.

Plane Turns Over

The plane veered suddenly to the left, causing the right wing to touch the ground, and then stood on its nose, and slowly settled over on its back. Another passenger jumped from the plane just before the wing was seen to touch the ground.

Several pilots frantically grabbed fire extinguishers and rushed to the crashed plane expecting it to burst into flames, and spectators were held back at some distance. As the plane finally settled, Dr. S. J. R. Murchison crawled from the wreckage. He had succeeded in cutting the switch just before the ship nosed over.

The pilot, and the two passengers who jumped, Walter Beck and W. W. Ely, were considerably shaken up and slightly bruised. Dr. Murchison had a lacerated finger and numerous abrasions, sustained as he fought his way to the instrument panel to cut the switch. He was considerably hindered in his efforts by the attempts of the other passengers to jump from the plane.

Throttle Wide Open

Investigation revealed that after the pilot had made several attempts to secure someone to crank the plane, one of the passengers had volunteered to handle the throttle, declaring that he was familiar with it, and the pilot accepted the offer and stepped outside to crank up. As the motor caught the throttle was full advanced, and the crash resulted.

The plane had the rudder torn and bent, the tip of the right wing damaged, a wheel collapsed, and other minor damage. The ship was righted and wheeled to the hangar where it was revealed that the ship would be unable to continue the trip, and the passengers were distributed in other ships.

The mishap delayed the final departure of the last group until about 10:30 when the ship bearing the officials started finally took the air for Houston, the next stop.

Newspaper Women on Tour.

Miss Mabel Gouldy of the Fort Worth Star Telegram, and Miss Katherine Rawlings of the Fort Worth Press, accompanied the aerocade, flying in the ship with A. P. Barrett.

In addition to Pilot Harold J. Nichols, the "Miss Corsicana" carried E. W. Tinkle, Frank Lemon, R. L. Calkins and two passengers from the wrecked plane.

One of the features of the aerocade is the ship "Fort Worth" which held the endurance record for a short time. The two pilots who established the short-lived record, Jim Kelly and Red Robbins, also accompanied the caravan. Other members of the delegation well known in Corsicana included Silliman Evans, vice-president of the Southern Air Transport, former newspaper man; Jack H. Hott, manager of the Fort Worth Association of Commerce; Capt. and Mrs. Bill Ponder and J. Kay.

With a slogan of "Advance Commercial Aviation," the aerocade is filling the dual role of a good will tour and an aviation experiment. After a few hours in Houston, the party will take off for Galveston for the over-night control point; Saturday the aerocade will visit Corpus Christi, Point Isabel, Harlingen, with an overnight stop at Brownsville; Sunday's schedule includes McAllen, Monterrey, Mexico, and an overnight stop at Laredo. The final day's schedule includes San Antonio, Austin, Waco and Fort Worth.

Hundred Agitators Arrested in Berlin

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—(AP)—One hundred persons, most of whom are communist agitators, were under arrest today because of clashes between German nationalists and communists.

Trouble occurred in various parts of the city yesterday during a nationalist procession organized to call attention to a proposed plebiscite on a bill which nationalists maintain would save the nation from "enslavement." The measure would make possible repudation of all Germany's post-war treaties and agreements, including the Young plan for reparations.

NATIONAL PARTY DENIES RUMORS OF NEW CIVIL STRIFE

SHANGHAI, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Nationalist government leaders are emphatic in denials that civil war has started again in China. They say numerous conflicting rumors of the last few days that reactionary groups have taken the field against the Central government at Nanking are groundless.

Meanwhile China faces another flareup on the Manchurian border, both Thiese and White Russians being involved in fighting with Soviet troops, according to reports from Russian points. A clash between Red and White Russians, resulted in eleven whites being killed and ten horses and a quantity of supplies being captured while only one Soviet trooper was wounded, occurred in the Vomosov district. This fight occurred more than 150 miles from the Chinese border, judged by reports from Chita.

Russian sources also claim Chinese launched attacks in the Pabigugutur, Michinsky and Amazar districts along the trans-Baikalia section of the frontier, while another clash was reported from the trouble center of Pogranichnaya on the extreme eastern border of Manchuria.

SOVIET PLANE IS READY TO START ALASKAN FLIGHT

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 23.—(AP)—A radio message to the Associated Press from Captain Cochran, commander of the United States coast guard fleet in Bering Sea, said today the Russian airplane "Land of the Soviets" had not yet left the Island of Attu, in the Aleutian Chain, but expected to hop off there some time today for Dutch Harbor, Alaska.

Captain Cochran's message, sent from Dutch harbor, 752 miles from Attu, quoted a radio message from the Russian ship Krassny Vimpel as saying the soviet plane was preparing to hop off.

The Krassny Vimpel is accompanying the Russian plans on its flight across the Pacific. The soviet fliers landed at Attu Island Saturday after a 750 miles flight from Kamchatka peninsula of Eastern Siberia. They are flying from Moscow to New York.

Twenty Planes Left Fort Worth Friday

FORT WORTH, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Twenty planes, carrying 73 Fort Worth men and women, took off at 8:30 a. m., today for the second annual Fort Worth good will aerocade.

Formation will be assumed at Corsicana, first point of the itinerary. The trip, which will require four days, will take the group into old Mexico for a visit to Monterrey.

Three other planes, bringing the total to 23, will join the flight en route, one at Corsicana, and others from Houston and Corpus Christi before the group passes into Mexico.

The planes will spend the night at Galveston and will proceed to Corpus Christi for lunch on Saturday. Harlingen is the next stopping point with the aerocade scheduled to spend the night at Brownsville. Early Sunday the planes will be headed into Mexico after a short stop at McAllen. A four hour stay is planned for Monterrey.

The party will head back to Laredo, control point for the third night. San Antonio, Austin and Waco are stops for the fourth and last day of the trip. The planes are expected to arrive here some time Monday.

Rumor that marriage of two of the group would take place in Monterrey was rife as the party took off. No names were disclosed. Miss Margaret Perry, entrant in the recent woman's air derby from California to Ohio, took off in the Spartain airplane that she was flying in the derby when forced out here because of illness.

Planes Reach Houston.

HOUSTON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Eighteen of the 20 airplanes comprising the second Fort Worth Good Will aerocade had arrived here at 12:30 p. m., today. About 75 persons were in the party.

H. F. Jones, pilot on the refueling plane when the endurance flight record was set at Fort Worth, made a safe dead stick landing. His plane was out of gasoline.

May Not Enter Mexico.

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Possibility that the Fort Worth aerocade might be held up on its flight to Monterrey Sunday developed here today with the announcement that no arrangements had been made with Mexican customs officials.

STATE DISMISSES CHARGE AGAINST REBECCA ROGERS

JUDGE GRANTS DROPPING OF ARSON CASE IN BUDA BANK ROBBERY

GEORGETOWN, Sept. 23.—(AP)—On motion of the state an arson charge against Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers was dismissed in district court here today.

The motion was granted by Judge J. B. Price of Brenham, who presided in place of Judge Harry Dolan, disqualified by connection with the case as county attorney.

The former University of Texas co-ed was charged with burning a vacant house in Roundrock, Sept. 10, 1926. In a previous trial the state contended the dwelling was set afire by Mrs. Rogers to attract citizens away from the business section in order that she might hold up the Farmers' State Bank. The trial held in September, 1927, resulted in a hung jury.

In a trial at New Braunfels last week on a charge of robbing the Farmers' National Bank of Buda, Texas, a jury also was unable to reach a verdict. It was Mrs. Rogers' fourth trial in connection with the two charges.

Rebecca Rogers to Receive Treatment

FORT WORTH, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers will receive treatment in Fort Worth, and if any attempt is made to have her confined in an insane asylum, it will not be made by her husband, Otis Rogers, he stated today.

He and Mrs. Rogers had just returned from New Braunfels where as attorney he defended her on a charge of robbery with firearms. A hung jury resulted.

"It would be an empty gesture for me or any one else to file an insanity case against her," Rogers said. "It is a fact that under the laws of Texas any person, adjudged insane, must be released when as many as two persons post a bond with the court. If she were convicted of insanity there are persons all over the state who would make this bond.

"In Fort Worth she is receiving and will continue to receive as good if not better treatment than she would in a state hospital. And certainly she would be more happy here."

Rogers said he had not been informed whether or not the case will be tried again, but added:

"We will be ready for trial any tiem if the case is ever set again."

Funeral services for Mrs. Emily Milner, 77, former resident of Corsicana, who died in Fort Worth Friday, were held from the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock with interment in the Zion's Rest cemetery. Mrs. Milner was a native of Louisiana, but came to Texas in 1869. She resided in Corsicana for 30 odd years prior to moving to Fort Worth where she has made her home for a number of years.

The body was brought to Corsicana Sunday morning. The services were conducted by Rev. J. Howard Williams, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Anna Hood, Fort Worth, and Mrs. Ida Self, Dallas.

The funeral was under the direction of the Corley-McMahon Funeral Home.

SENATOR M'KELLAR WANTS U. S. BUILD NAVY UNHAMPERED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, said in the senate today the United States should abrogate the Washington armament treaty placing a limit on battleships when it expires in 1936 and "for the present make no other agreement."

So far as the present cruiser limitation negotiations are concerned the senato rsaid, "its really material feature" is to limit the United States so this country will be unable to build a navy as great as that of Great Britain.

"Sound naval policy for this country," he added, "is to build a navy as large as our needs call for—unfettered and unhampered by any agreement."

The senator said he would vote to ratify a naval treaty, however, if the agreement provided for an absolute parity between the United States and Great Britain.

Breeches Buoy Is Used Rescue Crew Stricken Steamer

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 23.—(AP)—A breeches buoy was used by coast guardsmen today to rescue the crew of the Swedish steamer Carl Geyhard, ashore in a northeast gale one mile north of Kill Devil Hill, about 75 miles south of Virginia Beach.

The vessel was first sighted about 300 yards off the beach, by a coast guard patrol man. Two hours later the life saving apparatus had been rigged up, and the work of rescue started. There were 20 persons aboard the ship, one of them a woman.

DISARMAMENT OF NATIONS BEING TALKED AND PLANNED IN EARNEST; LEAGUE BUSY

By SAVINGTON CRAMPTON
Cable Editor, the Associated Press

The movment for disarmament is beginning in earnest, and Prime Minister MacDonald, sailing from England on September 28 to visit President Hoover, may find the road to international reduction of armaments is longer and rougher than the journey across the Atlantic.

With Great Britain and the United States separated by a small margin on agreement on their respective naval forces, France made plain last week of the five-power conference, at the back of the minds of the statesmen at Washington, will not be easy.

France placed the League of Nations squarely in the path of the American president and the British prime minister. Anything achieved at Washington, or at London later, if the five-power conference is held there next January, is for France but a step towards an international disarmament conference under the auspices of the league. She would like this meeting to consider all armaments, air and military as well as naval.

Issues between the five important naval powers are many and complicated. On the subject of submarines, where England and America alone could swiftly reach an accord, France, Italy and, to a less extent, Japan stand opposed to the Anglo Saxon viewpoint. All three will fight to keep their submarines.

In the capital of the League of Nations, three important topics were debated last week.

A committee of eleven was appointed to report to the 11th assembly on bringing the covenant of the league into harmony with the Kellogg-Briand pact outlawing war.

A program comprising five successive steps was arranged for the proposed world economic conference, designed to lower international tariff barriers.

France and England clashed in the disarmament committee when Lord Cecil brought up the limitation of trained army reserves, on which France is very touchy. The dispute was buried in a "compromise resolution," which postponed a decision.

Great Britain, France, Czechoslovakia, Peru, India, South Africa, Canada and New Zealand signed the optinal clause of the world court statute, accepting compulsory arbitration of the court.

Meanwhile, history was being made in the Rhineland where British troops began the evacuation which, by next June, will have removed evenly allied soldiers from German soil. The departure was made without demonstration on either side.

Mexico opened her campaign for the presidential elections in November with street fights and omnious signs of discord.

Desultory fighting between Russian and Chinese troops continued in Manchuria.

CONSTRUCTION OF HIGHWAYS IN LOCAL DISTRICT PUSHED

STATE HIGHWAY OFFICIALS INSPECT PROPOSED ROUTE CORSICANA-PALESTINE

Dump work, construction of bridges, surveys and plans on the State af Federal highways are going forward rapidly at the present time and much road activity is in progress, according to J. W. Alger, resident state highway engineer. Included in the projects referred to are Highway 75, State highway 31, State highway 14, Corsicana-Palestine highway and others.

J. E. Nolen, Waco, acting divisional superintendent; J. W. Alger, Corsicana, resident state engineer; D. C. Greer, divisional state engineer, Tyler; M. B. Hodges, resident engineer, Freestone county, and A. B. Purnell, Corsicana, Navarro county engineer, inspected the Corsicana-Palestine state highway from Eureka to the Trinity river and some of the engineers continued their inspection into Anderson county.

The route of the highway from Corsicana to Eureka will likely receive a favorable report from the high engineers upon their return to their headquarters, but the route from Eureka to the Trinity river will likely be held up fora time until more data concerning bridge sites can be ascertained, it was pointed out. There are two proposed routes from Eureka, one near Wildcat Ferry and the lower, or second route, about two miles to the south in the vicinity of the mouth of Richland creek. The lower route would save some distance, and the lower route would be better in Anderson county to tie in with the present gravel road northwest out of Palestine.

Highway 75 Work

The dump is practically finished in Richland creek bottom on highway 75 and two-thirds of the roadbed between Richland and Corsicana has been finished. The work on the dump from Richland to Streetman is almost completed and will be finished by the time the contract specifies, Oct. 2.

The concrete bridges spanning Mesquite creek three miles south of Richland, Pin Oak creek and Long Branch have been completed.

The work on the new Richland creek bridge has not started but the steel has arrived and the creosoted piling is expected daily. The work is scheduled to start on the bridge about Oct. 15.

The smaller bridge structures, culverts, etc., between Corsicana and Richland creek have been finished and the dump work on the road has progressed to a point near the Beaton tank two miles south of Corsicana.

Work on North End

On highway 75, north of Corsicana, the highway has been graded from Chambers creek to a point near Rice. Culverts and other drainage structures have been completed from Rice to the Navarro-Ellis county line. The concrete piling to be used on the big bridges crossing Chambers and Briar creeks have been poured and the actual construction of the bridges will be in full swing in a few days.

The work of putting up the big dump in Chambers creek bottom started early this week. No grading has been done on the highway from Chambers creek bottom toward Corsicana.

The dumps in Chambers and Richland bottoms will be 36 feet wide at the crowns and the remaining dumps are to be 30 feet wide.

Surveys have been completed from Waco to Corsicana on highway 31 but the engineer doing the work has not made his report. It is thought that the proposed route will touch the northern extremities of Hubbard, Dawson and will be above Purdon and thence into Corsicana.

State Highway 31

The local engineering department of the state highway department is making the plans on the state highway 31 east of Corsicana at the present time to the eastern boundary on consolidated road district No. 1, a distance of 9.8 miles which extends about two miles east of Powell. The highway will leave Corsicana via East Seventh avenue and will be north of the St. Louis-Southwestern Railway company tracks.

The surveys on highway 14, from Richland to the Freestone county line near Wortham en route to Mexia, have been completed and the plans are being made. Survey work is in progress in Freestone county near Wortham. Considerable delay was occasioned in the route through Wortham, but that difficulty has finally been ironed out. The route through Wortham will be down the street one block east of the present route in the west side which goes by the school buildings. The new route will curve back into the present route in the southern portion of Wortham to hit the bridge over the small creek south of the pavement and will follow practically the present road south, utilizing the present concrete bridges and culverts to the Freestone-Limestone county line where the new route will tie to the present pavement north of Mexia.

The surveys have been completed on highway 75 from the Ellis-Navarro county line north of Rice to Ennis and the engineers are now surveying the route from Ennis to the Dallas-Ellis county line where the pavement is now located. Considerable difficulty is being encountered in the vicinity of Ferris, it was stated.

ART GOEBEL ONLY AMERICAN AVIATOR TO START IN RACE

VALBUENA FLYING FIELD, MEXICO CITY, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Art Goebel, American flier, took off from the Valbuena flying field as the first racer in the Mexico City-to-Kansas City air derby at 11 a. m., today. His first scheduled stop was Tampico.

He was the only American to take off and was followed at two-minute intervals by five Mexican army fliers participating in the air derby.

They were Col. Roberto Fierro, noted Mexican airman, Captain Luis Verdeja, Lieut. Carlos Ribirosa, Captain Feliciano Flores and Lieut. Col. Fernado Proal.

Ten minutes before Goebel hopped off, the pilot ship began its flight to Tampico. It carred Floyd McKenzie, Thomas Parks and Charles Hopkins of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and W. Lewis of Kansas City.

The planes quickly left the Valbuena field and disappeared in a blue haze which overhung their lofty starting place. All were expected at Tampico within two hours.

Up to the time of the departure, Mr. Lewis, who was in charge of the entries, had not heard from the other American pilots expected to participate. All efforts to locate these fliers in the United States or Mexico were futile, and it was decided to proceed with Goebel as the only American entrant.

The race will serve not only as an international test of pilots, but also of the ships two of which were built in Mexico. These were piloted by Captain Flores and Lieut. Col. Proal. They were manufactured here by the Mexican Aviation Corps Shops and are called Azcarate after General Juan Azcarate, head of the military aviation force.

The fliers expected to arrive at Brownsville, Texas, about 4 o'clock this afternoon. They will spend the night there.

About 2,000 spectators gathered at the air field to watch the start of the race, delayed pending receipt of weather bulletins.

VALBUENA FLYING FIELD, MEXICO CITY, Mex., Sept. 23.—(AP)—One American flier and five Mexicans this morning awaited the signal to start on the Mexico City to Kansas City air derby planned as a feature of the International Air Circus in the American city.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Although Art Goebel is the only foreign aviator who has arrived here for the Mexico City to Kansas City air race starting today at 9 a. m. (11 a. m. E. S. T.) the contest will be carried out without delay, with four army pilots as Mexico's entries. The race is planned as a feature of the International Air Circus at Kansas City.

Wolford Lewis, in charge of arrangements for the start, announced there would be no postponement. The first stop will be at Tampico and the next at Brownsville, Texas, where the planes will stay tonight. Other stops will be San Antonio, Dallas, Wewoka, Muskogee, Tulsa, Joplin and Springfield. The planes take off from Mexico City at intervals of one minute.

No news has been received of the arrival over Mexican territory of the entries from the United States expected to compete.

NATIVE OF NAVARRO COUNTY NOW MAYOR OF CITY OF BORGER

"Glen Pace, mayor of Borger, now in the limelight with his young city, is a Central Texas product. Pace was born on a farm near Corsicana. He went to Ranger when the oil boom started there and graduated to Borger. He was appointed to his office after Mayor Johnny Miller resigned under pressure from Governor Moody during the second ranger regime, after Coke Buchanan was killed. Pace has since been elected to the office. His appointment was made by city commissioners of Borger, with tacit approval of the state, Assistant Attorney General Galloway Calhoun being in charge at Borger at the time."

Mr. Pace was born on a farm in the Hester community, northeast of Corsicana. He was the son of John Pace, brother of the late S. A. Pace of Corsicana. The family moved to West Texas a number of years ago, S. Z. Burke relates.

DETROIT NIGHT CLUB SCENE OF GRIM TRAGEDY; SIXTEEN DEAD, 50 INJURED

DETROIT, Sept. 20. (AP)—The death list in the fire that early today swept through the Study Club, a cabaret in East Vernor Highway, was increased to 17 shortly before noon with the death of an unidentified woman in Receiving Hospital.

The latest victim wore a ring bearing the initials "L. J. K."

DETROIT, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Sixteen persons lost their lives and more than 50 others were in hospitals with injuries suffered in a fire which gutted the Study Club, night club on the edge of the downtown theatre district, early today.

One hundred and thirty patrons and 40 employes, including entertainers, were in the night club when flames broke through the wall at the first floor and swept up the main stairway, cutting off the only means of egress.

Patrolman James McGuire, who discovered the blaze, ran to a nearby fire box, and returned to find the flames and smoke roaring up the staircase. Before patrons and employes were aware of their danger, the fire was upon them. A cigarette girl was suffocated by the hot fumes as she stood in the center of the dance floor and dropped down over her tray. Her body was found by firemen.

Bodies Piled in Room.

Many patrons rushed for safety into a small dressing room, seven by 15 feet, in the rear of the building. Thirty of them were found piled unconscious in the tiny space when firemen broke into the room. Several of them were dead. Others were badly injured.

The interior of the building was ruined, but the exterior presented an almost unblemished appearance save for broken windows and a fire escape which hung useless.

Marty Cohen, proprietor of the club, and Robert Jackson, master of ceremonies, were closeted with police this morning. Cohen attributed the fire to rivals in business. The Study Club had been operating for about a year and had prospered. Situated on Vernor highway, about six blocks from the heart of the city and just off Woodward avenue, the main north and south artery of Detroit, it had acquired a wide reputation.

Proprietor Absent.

Cohen was not in the place at the time of the fire. Another night club, the Lido, had its opening last night, and he had gone to participate, he told police.

Firemen who tried to enter the building through windows, found the window openings had been covered on the inside with wall board. All windows in the second floor had thus been closed, they asserted.

As firemen and volunteer rescuers carried out victims, taxicabs, which had been parked in a lot next to the building took them to hospitals. Squads of ambulances arrived soon after the fire apparatus.

At Receiving hispital 20 men and 30 women were checked in within an hour after the outbreak of the fire. Other hospitals in the city cared for other injured. Nurses, internes and physicians were sent to receiving hospital to aid in treating the injured.

Suffocation Cause of Deaths.

Some of the victims were dead on arrival at the hospitals. Most of the fatalities, physicians said, resulted from suffocation. Identification of the dead was difficult because of the badly burned clothing and the disfigurement which follows suffocation.

State and city fire commissioners investigating the blaze with the police declared this morning that they could find no evidence that the fire was of incendiary origin. Draperies and light, flimsy decorations, they said, accounted for the rapid spread of the flames, as did ventilating fans and the architecture of the building.

The fire came at the peak of the night's business. Patrons who had dropped in for a luncheon after the theatre had just settled themselves to the enjoyment of the entertainment which was offered by the club when the cry of "fire" came.

Clothing Torn Off

In the struggle to escape the flames and smoke, clothing was torn from men and women, preventing immediate identification of some of those taken to the morgue.

The fire which according to all accounts started in the dining room, was worst about the stairway. For several minutes passers-by made futile efforts to enter, and then several taxicab drivers, led by Fred Sweet, braved the flames and got into the room. They carried a number of men and women out of the door and tried to establish a rescue line through the one available window.

In addition to Receiving hospital, a city institution, St. Mary's hospital and the nearby Savory hotel were pressed into service to care for the injured. Forty-eight physicians and three score nurses cared for victims.

Three investigations were under way early today. One was begun by Gabe S. Goldwater, fire marshall who expressed opinion the conflagration was accidental. The other investigations weer under the direction of Paxton Menbelssohn, of the fire prevention bureau of the board of commerce and R. J. Morris, deputy state fire marshal.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The census bureau announced today that actve cotton spindle hours for August totaled 8,129,928,914, compared with 7,744,243,369 for July.

C. OF C. HIGHWAY COMMITTEE DISCUSSES ROAD PROBLEMS WITH EXECUTIVE SESSION

Following immediately after a tour by some of the members, of the proposed routes of the highway between Corsicana and Palestine via Wildcat Ferry, the highway committee of the Corsicana chamber of commerce was called into an "executive" session Saturday morning to discuss problems connected with this project.

In addition to members living in Corsicana several citizens of communities along the proposed route and in that territory attended the meeting. It was learned that some difference of opinion still existed between members of the committee, in regard to a letter written the highway department some days ago. One committeeman stated that he did not see that it was necessary to "back water," but felt that the committee should tell the highway officials that any location they might make for the road would be agreeable with those interested locally. It is understood that these differences were settled and a full report will be made to the directors next week.

Among those who attended the executive meeting were County Commissioner Jack Megarity, President C. L. Jester of the chamber of commerce, R. J. Jackson, Ted Ferguson, J. N. Edens, W. O. Harwell and others.

Those who inspected the proposed routes included County Judge Clay Nash, R. J. Jackson, Guy M. Gibson, J. E. Butler, J. N. Edens, Jack Megarity, R. L. Wheelock and W. O. Harwell.

BELIEVED BECKY ROGERS' DAYS BEFORE COURT RESULT BUDA BANK ROBBERY OVER

NEW BRAUNFELS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Unable to reach a verdict after nearly two days of deliberation, the weary jury which heard Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers' bank robbery trial was discharged last night, and today the end of the former Texas university student's long court combat with the state apepared to have been reached.

While District Attorney Fred Blundell would not commit himself, he indicated he did not intend prosecuting her for a fourth time for holding up the Farmers National Bank of Buda, Texas, in December, 1926.

Twenty-four-year old Mrs. Rogers smiled thinly when the judge disbanded the jury, which has stood nine to three for acquittal on the insanity plea, but she made no comment. Otis Rogers, who as his wife's chief lawyer had hoped to celebrate his 27th birthday yesterday with the knowledge she had been freed outright exhibited his disappointment, but he thanked each juror for his labors.

He planned to take Mrs. Rogers immediately to their home in Fort Worth. Blundell had called on him to place her in an asylum if he still believed her unbalanced. The young husband answered that challenge with a hot statement that she would remain with him and under his care.

The jury of German-American farmers strived manfully to come to a decision, but the three "hold outs" refused to budge. Several times the foreman told the court no agreement was possible but was instructed to go back and try again, the judge being mindful of the expense of the trial. Forty ballots were taken. All of them recorded 9 to 3 except the first two, which were 8 to 4. It was the first jury "hung" on a felony case in this county within a decade.

Rogers, assisted only by two former classmates at the university, where he secretly was married, looked somewhat haggard as the trial wore on, but Mrs. Rogers appeared indifferent.

The home to which the couple goes back seems destined still to know its quota of care as Rogers never has recovered entirely from tuberculosis brought on by exposure occasioned by his efforts in behalf of his wife after her arrest. Mr. Rogers, too, according to defense physicians, is a pellagra sufferer.

GERMAN MYSTERY WARSHIP TO PLAY IMPORTANT PART IN NAVAL DISARMAMENTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. —(AP)—Germany's new mystery warship—a 10,000-ton craft mounting six 11-inch guns and capable of a wide cruising radious at hgih speed—seems destined to play an important part in any future naval limitation conference that deals with capital fighting ships.

In the judgment of some American naval officers this would be especially so if there should be a move in 1936 to abolish the battleship, as has been suggested unofficially in recent months, since the beginning of the present anglo-American negotiations for limiting tonnage of auxiliary fleet craft.

With Germany possessing six ships of the characteristics of the one now completed, it is argued in naval circles that the other sea powers would be unable to do away with their own capital ship fleets without changes in the present agreement which fixes eight inches as the limit of the bore of guns to be mounted on other than battleships.

Under the terms of the Treaty of Versailles, Germany is permitted to build six ships of 10,000 standard tons, or about 12.500 tons displacement, without limitation of any kind as to the size of the guns that might be mounted on them.

PILOT OF YANKEES SERIOUSLY ILL AT NEW YORK HOSPITAL

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The condition of Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, took a turn for the worse, today, and blood transfusions were employed. It was said at St. Vincent's hospital his condition was "very grave," as a result of complications from influenza and erysipelas.

Huggins was suffering from a bad cold and a boil on his face but not much cause for alarm was felt until complications set in last Friday, when he was taken to the hospial on the advice of the Yankee's physician, Dr. Edward Kibing. His condition has become steadily worse since then.

Huggins was forty-nine years old last March 27.

ODD FELLOWS TO GET WATER FROM CORSICANA MAINS

All negotiations between the city of Corsicana and the Odd Fellows Home in regard to connecting the home with the Corsicana water system have been completed, Water Commissioner W. C. Stroube announced Monday afternoon, and it is thought that the connection will be made as soon as arrangements are completed with the State Home.

The State Home owns the water line from the city limits to the home and it was necessary to secure permission for the Odd Fellows to tie into it. A stub was left at the end of the line laid a few months ago when the road to the homes was paved.

Negotiations were started with the Odd Fellows to tie onto the water system several months ago when some of the high officials of the order advanced the scarcity of fresh water as one reason why they wished to move the home from Corsicana, and all the dealings between the city and home have been completed form some time. All that is necessary for the home to tie on after negotiations have been completed with the State Home officials.

ODD FELLOWS HOME BAND MADE DECIDED HIT AT HOUSTON

PROMINENT WACO ODD FELLOW TALKS OF RECENT WORLD CONVENTION

"Showing of the I. O. O. F. Orphans' Home at Corsicana, which sent the Girls' Glee club and band to the world's convention of the Odd Fellows, pleased delegates, who gathered in Houston last week for the Odd Fellows' convention, according to F. M. Compton, grand sire for the local order.

"Welcome accorded the visiting delegates from all over the world by the Texas order impressed them also, Compton declared.

"The first meeting was held in the city auditorium. Gov. Dan Moody welcomed the visitors in behalf of the state of Texas, and Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller, deputy grand sovereign of the I. O. O. F. of Texas, made an address of greeting in behalf of Texas Odd Fellows. Mrs. Jennie N. Ross welcomed them in behalf of the Rebekahs.

"Former Grand Sire Frank Martin responded to these for the visiting delegates.

His First World Convention.

"The meeting in Houston was the first world convention that Compton had ever attended. He declared that those with whom he spoke who had attended such conventions before said that this was one of the most impressive meetings of the body ever held.

"The number of delegates were not as great as usual, because Houston was so far from the center of the country," Compton said.

From Many Countries.

"There were delegates from Canada and other countries there. Each state had two representatives.

"After the convention it was planned to take some of the delegates, who had never been in Mexico, to the valley and across the border.

"Most of the three days W. W. Taylor of Waco and I were there were taken up with routine business matters that came before the convention as a whole, but we felt justly proud of the Orphans' Home from Corsicana. Their band uniforms were new and they made a very fine appearance. They played in several of the hotels in Houston and pleased the visitors very much.'"—Waco Sunday Tribune-Herald.

Corporation Court Has Busy Session Monday Morning

Nineteen charges appeared on the docket of the corporation court Monday morning as a result of arrests made over the week-end, and Judge H. S. Melear resumed his usual good humor as he dealt out fines and lectures in accord with the offenses. The judge has been rather disgruntled for the past few days when some mornings passed without even a charge of intoxication or a traffic violation to demand his attention.

Among the charges on the docket Monday were five for intoxication and disturbing the peace; two of running red lights, five charged with parking cars on a parkway, two for parking too near a fireplug; one for vagrancy, one for associating with a prostitute, one for failure to pay carnival tax.

A negro was arrested for alleged shoplifting. He is alleged to have taken two suits from the C. E. Stone Company. He will be transferred to the county. City officers also arrested a negro charged with taking $22 from another of his race, and was transferred to the county.

ARSON-BLACKMAIL PLOT CAUSES TWO TO TAKE OWN LIVES

TWO OTHER MEMBERS INDIANA FAMILY FACING PRISON SENTENCES

WABASH, Ind., Sept. 23.—(AP)—An arson and blackmail plot in which an entire family is alleged to have participated has culminated in the suicide of the mother and a daughter and prison sentences for the father and a son.

Mrs. Charles Keaffaber, 47, and her daughter Helen, 24, were found dead in their farm home near Roann yesterday. They had taken poison. The daughter had confessed to county officers last week she was the writer of unsigned letters to several persons in this vicinity threatening destruction of their property unless restitution was made for fancied wrongs.

The husband and father of the family, Charles Keaffaber, 46, and the son, Roy, 25, are held in jail here under prison sentences of one to ten years each. The father and son have pleaded guilty to setting fire to a sawmill at Akron, Ind., last month and a farm building near here two years ago.

Mrs. Keaffaber was not implicated in the plot, but authorities believe she had knowledge of their actions.

plied: "for the purpose of reporting events there."

Clinton L. Bardo, president of the New York Shipbuilding company; F. P. Palen, vice-president of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company, and Henry C. Hunter, counsel of the council of the American shipbuilders, attended the conference which sent Shearer abroad.

Continuing, Wakeman said the agreement with Shearer was only verbal.

"Why wasn't it written?" asked Chairman Shortridge.

"It didn't come up," the witness replied.

Didn't Consult Others.

The shipbuilder said he had not discussed the Geneva naval conference with any of his associates in the Bethlehem company.

"I did not take it up with any of my people or with counsel," he explained. "I knew none of the American delegates."

"Of course, I was interested in the conference although I didn't give it any particular thought," the witness replied in answer to a question.

Wakeman said his company paid Shearer in cash through Mr. Hunter. He added there was no record on the books of his company showing any payments to Shearer.

"Why?" inquired Senator Shortridge, republican, California.

"Because it was a personal transaction of my own on behalf of my company. I didn't think about it."

The witness insisted Shearer was only to "observe" at Geneva.

"And you thought it was worth $25,000? pursued Shortridge.

"Yes."

"Did you get his reports?"

Wakeman replied he had.

Then, speaking of the conference, he said:

Worth the Money.

"I hoped that the powers would make some agreement whereby the question of this country being at war would be settled once and for all. I wasn't interested in the outcome except as it would affect some work our company was carrying on."

"And you thought it was worth $25,000 to be advised on the trend," Shortridge interposed.

"Yes."

"Was this man hired to use his influence on the conference?""

"Absolutely no."

"Was he to be a spy or middleman?"

"Certainly not, and that wasn't discussed."

Shortridge asked if the witness did not know that "responsible and reputable newspapermen would report that conference?

"Yes," re replied.

Had Propaganda Job.

"Then why did you spend $25,000 for another reporter?"

"I thought because of his knowledge of naval affairs he would look at this conference from another standpoint."

The witness in reply to questions about Shearer's $7,500 "propaganda" job in Washington in 1926 described the latter's duties as "influencing public opinion."

Wakeman reviewed the 1921 Washington arms conference which resulted in the last of a battleship contract for his company and the discharge of many workers and the holding up of work on two cruisers.

Referring again to Shearer's employment, Wakeman remarked "I guess I was just jazzed off my feet."

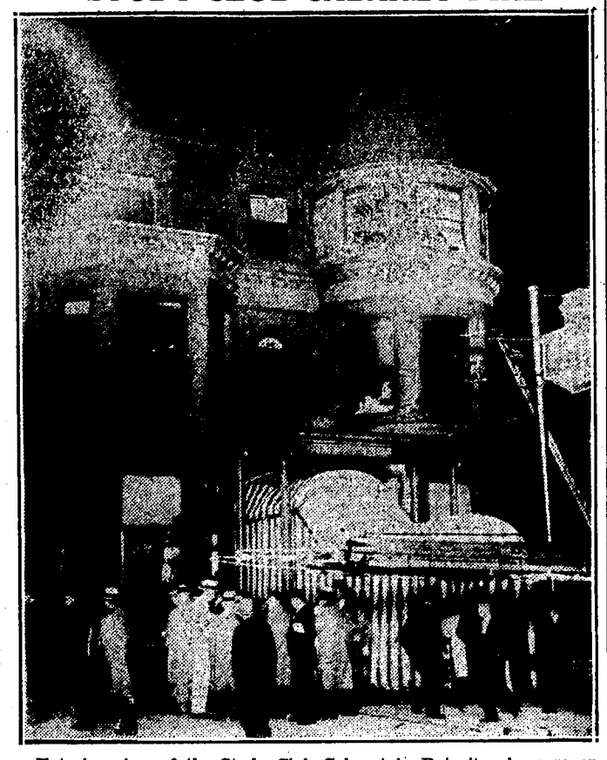

Participants Called.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—More light on the employment of William B. Shearer, big navy advocate, by American shipbuilders as their "observer and reported at the unsuccessful Geneva arms limitation conference in 1927 was sought today by the senate committee investigating the matter.

Already told by Clinton L. Bardo, president of the New York Shipbuilding company and a participant in the meeting at which he said Shearer was employed for $25,000, that all he wanted was "just to learn the trend of the conference," the committee called two others who took part in making the arrangement.

They were S. W. Wakeman, vice-president of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation, subsidiary of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, and Frederick P. Palen, vice president of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock corporation.

Dr. Lange of Norway insisted the three items under consideration today by the committee should not be considered, as proposed, in a plenary session this afternoon and this move for retarding the pace of the procedings was adopted.

AUTHORITIES WILL PROBE DEATH WOMAN FOUND BY ROADSIDE

HOUSTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Despite the inquest verdict today that the death of Mrs. Letia Hayes, 40, of Port Arthur, was due to an automobile accident, the Liberty county sheriff's department was conducting an investigation.

Mrs. Hayes was found in a dying condition on the Beaumont-Houston highway between Devers and Liberty. Four boys who brought her to a hospital here said they found her lying on the roadside.

P. A. Olive and J. A. Campbell, Port Arthur refinery employes, said their automobile figured in a minor collision with another car and that when they got out of their machine they saw the woman lying near the road. They sped to Devers to call an ambulance.

Liberty county officers were working on the theory Mrs. Hayes was riding in the car that collided with Olive's machine and she was thrown out by the impact.

CRIMINAL MUST GO.

The law abiding citizens will now take charge of Borger. The criminal element will move to greener fields to carry on their trade.

But it cost the life of a man to reverse the order of things in this West Texas oil town.

When the assassin's bullet cut short the life of District Attorney John A. Holmes it also sounded the death knell to major crime rule in Borger. Not only was Borger aroused when the district prosecutor was killed, but the entire state was shocked and the realization a condition existed that must be completely eliminated was forceably brought home to the state law enforcement body.

The law abiding citizenship is too often satisfied to let a bad condition exist when they are not directly affected. Individual action would not accomplish anything—personally I am not directly interested—is the usual attitude of the average citizen. The criminal is never satisfied—give him an inch and he will take a mile. So long as the law abiding citizen assumes an attitude of indifference the criminal gets bolder and bolder. Then a crime is committed—like the assassination of Borger's prosecutor — which jerks Mr. Average Citizen out of his peaceful calm and he suddenly realizes he has a duty to perform. And when Mr. Average Citizen is thoroughly aroused he is a dangerous man—the criminal fully realizes the danger of the law abiding aroused—and moves on.

Yes, Borger will be thoroughly renovated of the criminal element and crime news from that progressive and flourishing oil town in the future will be as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth.

The life of a fearless law enforcement officer was the terrible price paid, His life no doubt could have been saved if the law abiding citizenship of the district he represented had backed him as whole-heartedly during his life as the citizenship is now backing him after death.

Every citizen of Texas is hoping for the early apprehension of the murderer followed by speedy justice.

OLD AGE IN INDUSTRY.

Conflicting testimony is at hand on the subject of old age in industry. On the one hand, a New York employment bureau reports that only 200 of the 5,800 unemployed men betwen 40 and 55 years of age who registered with it were able to get work during the past 18 months. On the other hand, as eminent an industrialist as Henry Ford says that "if all the men over 50 got out of the world there would not be enough experience left to run it."

Granting the soundness of Mr. Ford's view, it would seem that some places should be available for men of maturity who are genuinely anxious to be employed in gainful occupations. And yet the cold fact seems to be that, save in outstanding executive positions where wisdom and experience are at a premium, the demand of modern industry is for the energy of youth.

Certainly we have here an important social and economic problem. Thorough consideration of unemployment cannot well avoid including an attempted answer to the tragic question raised by men who have reached the two-score mark and who find themselves discarded in favor of younger blood. Sociologists and economists may well join in an effort to lengthen the period of industrial usefulness.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE.

In a recent statement issued by the U. S. Public Health Service considerable encouragement is given to persons having a high blood pressure if they will adopt proper treatment which consists principally of a proper regimen. Any individual so afflicted who takes reasonable care of himself under the direction of his physician may usually expect many years of comfortable existence. And the importance of treatment is emphasized by the fact that the complications and conditions associated with high blood pressure grouped as a single cause of death lead the list of causes of death in our mortality statistics.

It is pointed out that every person has blood pressure. A certain amount of pressure is necessary in order to make the blood flow through the circulatory vessels of the body. The actual pressure depends on four physical factors: (1) the force of the heart beat; (2) the resistance caused by friction through the vessels; (3) the elasticity of the vessel walls; and (4) the amount of blood.

An average blood pressure has been established by thousands of examinations made on normal persons. This average pressure varies according to age. However, perfectly healthy individuals may deviate from this average. It also shows marked variation in the same individual from hour to hour throughout the day. The upper limit of normal blood pressure for the average individual has been stated to be equal to his age in years plus 100.

The factors which influence blood pressure are many and varied. Exercise, excitement, and anger cause increased pressure, whereas nervous depression often causes the blood pressure to fall. Certain diseases, notably Bright's disease, various chronic infections, and chronic poisoning raise the blood pressure, while debilitating diseases, such as tuberculosis, are often associated with low blood pressure. Heredity is also a factor. Blood pressure depends partly upon the amount of elastic tissue in our arteries. Some families noted for their longevity constitute a group having especially good arteries. Other family groups are unfortunate enough to inherit and transmit poor arteries, that is, arteries which have too little elastic tissue in them. As age advances, thickening of the arteries inevitably occurs, and persons who have the best heritage in this respect have the best chances for old age. The popular statement that a man is as old as his arteries seems quite applicable.

Sometimes a certain amount of increased pressure is necessary, and in this case there is ground for optimism; but there are limits beyond which the rise may become dangerous in itself. This limit varies quite markedly with different persons, but it is generally considered that if the pressure can be kept below 200 the individual is relatively safe from dangerous developments due directly to the high blood pressure.

Treatment consists principally in a proper regimen, directed chiefly toward preventing the complications and relieving the symptoms. With the heart under increased strain, it is evident that rest constitutes the greatest protection for this organ. The amount of exercise should be decided upon by the family physician. Food is a factor in treatment; but it is now believed that a consideration of the quantity of food—a restriction in amount—rather than quality is of the greatest importance. The giving of drugs is usually disappointing, but in emergenceis they may be life saving.

The person with a high blood pressure should not become a "high blood pressure fiend," constantly thinking, talking, and living his high blood pressure. He should adopt a cheerful frame of mind, shun too frequnt estimations of the pressure, avoid physical and mental, 'particularly emotional excesses, and get plenty of rest, and he may live happily with his blood pressure to a ripe old age.

SELECTING LIFE'S JOB.

What vocation to choose and how to get a job that will lead in the desired direction are two questions that puzzle most college and high school students. That there is serious-mindedness in student life is attested by the thought given at the beginning of the school year to these problems.

Student employment offices in many colleges or universities find part-time work and vacation jobs for students, but little or no attempt is made to guide students in the selection of a vocation or to get them started on a road that will lead to something better.

Any observant teacher is qualified to advise students in the matter of choosing a life work. Who knows better the capabilities propensities, ambitions and genius, if any, of young men and women? Few parents know them as well.

Impetuous, inexperienced and imaginative young people certainly are not the best fitted to decide what their undertakings after graduation should be, if their own best interests and those of society are to be served. This does not mean that youth should be compelled to do something it has no taste for, nor that it is to be denied the opportunity of determining its own destiny. Persuasion will get around this.

Next to preparing young men and women for the business of making a living the duty of the teacher should be to help the student decide how that living is to be made.

MADISON ALSO HELPER.

This is the one hundred and forty-second anniversary of the constitutional convention and those who celebrate it perform a patriotic and appropriate act.

UsuaNy at this time of year a wreath is placed upon the grave of Alexander Hamilton. He ardently desired the constitution, he led the victorious fight for New York's ratification, and his Federalist essays were part of the first great exposition of it. But why Hamilton alone?

After all, if one were to choose the foremost hero of the constitutional convention it would not be the dashing Hamilton. It would be the shy, persistent Virginian, of quiet ways and insiginificant stature, who brought the Annapolis convention from which the constitutional gathering sprang; who wrote the "Virginia Plan;" who spoke more often than any other man save James Wilson and Gouveneur Morris; who contributed more ideas to the instrument than any other single brain, and whose Federalist essays were thoughtful if less eloquent than Hamilton's. James Madison, of course, would not serve the purpose of the Republicans. He was a Jeffersonian Democrat.

Why do some try to make a Republican festival or a partisan affair of any kind out of Constitution Week? Moreover, the Republican claims to party kinship with Hamilton have a slenderness that is almost invisible.

WHITE RATS AND ATHLETES.

An old-time philosopher once explained his good physical condition by declaring that he never ran when he could walk, never walked when he could stand, never stood when he could sit, never sat when he could lie down. His declaration appears to be the text from which eminent psychologists in convention in New Haven, Conn., are preaching their sermons.

Thus Prof. Coleman R. Griffith tells of tests made in the University of Illinois with the aid of two groups of white rats to determine whether or not college sports are actually a help or drawback to education. Some of the rats lead active lives. Squirrel cages attend to that. Others do next to nothing. Then all are weighed and put through intelligence tests by means of a standardized elevated maze.

Who will first get out of the maze, the athlete or the rester? The answer may result in football being shelved for checkers in all of our colleges. But not, we venture to phophesy, this season or next.

ROUTING "REALISM."

Despite the revolt against sentiment and sentimentality on the part of practitioners in realistic art, life every little while insists on thrusting forth a denial of the Zolas and Dreisers in affirmation of the Charles Dickenses.

Among the "myths" that have been more or less satisfactorily debunked are the devotion, sacrifice and unquestioned accepance of old fashioned duty practiced by the common man. The obligation of family, of kinship, has been roughly handled along with the sense of obligation in general and in favor of the rights of self.

Yet in these modern times one finds an humble immigrant supporting his invalid brother and the latter's family of ten. There are thousands of young men and women working to give brothers and sisters an education that they may be fully armored for the battles of life. There are fathers and mothers slaving for their children and children making the greatest sacrifice for aged parents. And, though the divorce rate soars and the happy married life seems out of date, there are still husbands and wives so old-fashioned as to be devoted to each other to the extent of great sacrifice.

Those survivors of that age when sacrifice was its own reward and sentiment was omnipotent are probably sinning against their own Higher Self, but they explain why man clings to romance. Humanity persists in finding its own highest self expression in the one case of unselfishness against the nine opposite cases reported by the "realist."

TARIFF ABSURDITIES.

In the presidential campaign of 1924, and in only slightly less degree last year, the Republican party was open to attack on many grave issues—so many, in fact, that its opponents succeeded only in scattering their shot on numerous targets.

The present tariff making of the party in power resembles the circumstances of these campaigns. The proposed legislation contains so many objectionable features that it is difficult to pick a target for concentrated fire.

So numerous are the absurdities in the house and senate tariff bills that to list them would require columns of recital and discussion. Rate increases are proposed for industries that are enjoying unprecedented prosperity. Other advances are proposed where imports are negligible. Still other boosts are found where the industry suffers only from overproduction and not at all from foreign competition.

These are the facts, although fundamentally this was to be a limited tariff revision confined chiefly to agricultural rates. Either there has been a misunderstanding or the people have been viciously deceived.

It will be interesting to see just how far astray congress will go on the tariff question. Thus far its shots have gone wide of the administration target.

It would not be a bad idea to have DePriest to stump the state next summer in the interest of the candidacy of Tom Love for governor—not a bad idea for his democratic opponent. Even if the negro congressman from Illinois could not be prevailed upon to make speeches in Texas for Mr. Love some smart democrat should be able to at least get DePriest to endorse the candidacy of Mr. Love. DePriest is a great talker you know.

If President Hoover will only bring Congressman DePriest with him when he visits Dallas one of the greatest Democratic majorities in the history of the Lone Star state will be rolled up next year.

About the only people who suffer in silence are those who suffer when required to remain silent.

An open mind is all right if you know when to close your mouth.

TERRELL ESTIMATES CROP FOR 1929 AT 3,887,000 BALES

LOWEST ESTIMATE SINCE 1922 MADE BY STATE OFFICIAL; BELOW U.S. REPORT

AUSTIN, Sept. 21. (AP)—A Texas cotton crop of 3,887,000 bales, lowest since 1922, was estimated today by George B. Terrell, state commissioner of agriculture, based on September 15 conditions.

The figure is 220,000 bales below the government's estimate of 4,107,000 bales of September 1, believed in agricultural circles to be approximately correct at that time. The anticipated yield, however, has deteriorated rapidly during the latter part of August and September, Terrell said.

Banner cotton counties last season have felt the effect of a reduced crop and Ellis probably will be the only county to produce more than 100,000 bales, according to the commissioner. In 1927, Hill, McLennan and Williamson counties, together with Ellis, exceeded this output.

Late feed crops have been benefited by recent rains in some sections, but indications point to shorter fed crops than last year, Terrell was advised.

FOUR MEN CHARGED WITH HUGE SWINDLING EFFORT ON LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE

LONDON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Clarence Hatry and three associates in a stock exchange sensation here were charged at the Guildhall today with conspiracy to obtain 209,000 pounds ($1,045,000) by false pretenses. The four men were refused bail and remanded until September 27.

The crown prosecutor intimated further charges are likely to follow in the case. The other accused men arrested with Hatry were Edmund Daniels and Albert Tabor, company directors, and John G. Dixon, secretary.

Hatry, Daniels and Tabor had passports which they obtained yesterday and which the police now have.

The sensation with repercussions in many parts of Great Britain developed because of the slump of seven securities of he so-called Clarence Hatry group of companies to a small fraction of their price two days ago.

The stock exchange committee suspended permission to deal in the stocks, after the slump was estimated to have cost shareholders $40,000,000. It is understood the Bank of England is taking a hand in efforts to meet a difficult situation.

Hatry consulted lawyers and on their advice visited the director of public prosecutions, accompanied by fellow directors, Edmund Daniels, John Dixon and Albert Tabor. All made statements and subsequently went into the headquarters of the City of London police.

MANY SHOTS FIRED IN BATTLE AGAINST BORDER SMUGGLERS

EL PASO, Sept. 20.—(AP)— More than 300 rounds of ammunition were fired by United States border patrolmen last night in two pitched battles with a band of Mexican rum runners, attempting to land a cargo of liquors on American soil.

Both battles took place on Cordova Island near here. The rum runners were repulsed. Three Mexicans, two of them 15-year-old "spotters," were arrested, and two of the smugglers, apparently wounded, were seen crawling into the brush on the Mexican side.

The smuggling band numbered more than 30 men. They returned the fire of the border patrolmen briskly, but none of the officers was wounded. More than 50 gallons of liquor were confiscated.

TWO OF ESCAPED CONVICTS TAKEN BY NEEDVILLE FARMER

RICHMOND, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Two of the six convicts who escaped Wednesday night from the Ramsey state prison farm were in jail here today after being captured yesterday by August Sieler, farmer, living near Needville, 16 miles south of here. They were W. H. Hendrickson and Earl Faulkner.

Sieler saw two men on his place running behind some bushes. Hurrying to the house he got his shotgun, loaded with bird shot, and went to investigate their presence. One of the men had a pistol and fired once at him. He returned the fire and inflicted a scalp wound on his assailant. The men then surrendered, and he summoned Richmond officers.

Hendrickson was serving a two-year term for theft from Robertson county, and Faulkner a seven-year term for theft from Carson county.

LANDSCAPE ARTIST KILLED WHEN DOOR BELL IS ANSWERED

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Frank Reed Whiteside, 63, landscape artist of note, was slain by a mysterious gunman last night as he answered the doorbell of his home in Waverly street. He was shot through the heart.

Robbery was given by police as a possible motive for the shooting. The artist's pockets were found turned inside out. His gold watch and chain, however, had not been taken from his pocket.

Neighbors who heard the shot and found Whiteside's body slumped across the doorway told police they had seen a shabbily-clad youth run down the street in the heart of the city after the shooting.

Mr. Whiteside, who was treasurer of the Fellowship of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, an instructor and author, was alone in his home, his wife, who is convalescing from recent illness, and his daughter, with whom he had spent the summer at Ogunguist, Maine, were expected home in a few days.

MOODY REFUSES COMMUTE SENTENCE DETECTIVE SLAYER

AUSTIN, Sept. 21. (AP)—John A. (Pete) McKenzie, given death for the murder of Chief of Detectives Sam Street, and saved from execution by verdict of a jury that the condemned man was insane, is now sane, according to a letter received by Governor Moody from Dr. George F. Powell, superintendent of the Terrell State Hospital, where McKenzie is a patient.

Governor Moody said the superintendent suggested that the governor commute McKenzie's death sentence to life imprisonment so he could send him to the penitentiary rather than retain him at the asylum.

"I replied that I had refused to commute McKenzie's death sentence and called his attention to the statutes which direct disposition of such cases," the governor said.

Under the law, when a condemned man is saved from death by a jury declaring him insane and he is later believed to be sane, the superintendent of the asylum where he is detained shall make affidavit to the district judge of the court where the original sanity hearing was held declaring that he believes the man to be sane, when another hearing shall be called. If the patient is found sane the law directs that the sentence of death shall be carried out.

HEAD SHIPBUILDING COMPANY ADMITTED HIRING OF SHEARER

SAYS ALLEGED PROPAGANDIST TO REPRESENT SHIPBUILDERS AT GENEVA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. —(AP)—American shipbuilders spent $143,000 in seeking passage of the Jones-White merchant marine act of 1928, Clinton L. Barbo, president of the New York Shipbuilding corporation, testified today before a senate investigating committee.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—A senate investigating committee was told today by Clifton L. Bardo, president of the New York Shipbuilding corporation, that three American shipbuilding concerns entered into a verbal agreement to send William B. Shearer, naval propagandist, to the 1927 Geneva naval limitations conference as an "observer."

Bardo, the first witness, said an agreement was entered into in New York in March 1927.

It provided, he added, that Shearer was to go to Geneva as "an observer and report proceedings and the trend of events and give such information as was not in the newspapers which would be of interest to the ship building companies."

Bardo represented his company at the New York conference. He said he was invited to attend by a Mr. Hunter, counsel of the American shipbuilders. Others at the conference, he continued, were F. P. Allen, vice-president of the Newport News Shipbuilding corporation; S. W. Wakeman, vice-president of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation; Shearer, and Hunter.

The first witness said Shearer asked to be paid $25,000, to be split equally among the three companies. (He added his company paid Shearer forthwith.

Made Good Impression.

Robinson asked what Shearer said about sea power at the conference.

"He made an impression on me by the knowledge he apparently possessed," the witness answered. "He said he had many acquaintances of a strong business character, and he wanted to go to Geneva."

"Did he make any representations about the present strength of the American navy?" pusued Robinson.

"He did not."

"What was the purpose of the conference—to determine if anything could be done to promote the shipbuilding industry?"

"Not that broad," Bardo replied. "We were in a bad way, and it was of interest to us to know if the Geneva conference was going to destroy a building program."

Robinson asked why the $25,000 price had been determined.

"It was too much," said Bardo.

"Did you protest?" continued Robinson.

Price Too High.

"No. I was influenced by the other shipbuilders. I think Mr. Palen set the price. I made the comment that it was too much but I didn't protest."

Robinson inquired if Shearer had sent any reports and the shipbuilder said he had, producing them.

Continuing, Bardo said he had been "deeply interested in the Geneva conference," but not in regard to tons and guns and limitations.

"We were interested in the trend but not in the disagreement."

"What trend were you interested in?" asked Robinson.

"What was happening from day to day and the newspapers gave us that."

"But you weren't interested in the failure"

"No.'

Bardo said his secretary described Shearer's reports as "bunk" and that they were filed without any consideration.

The witness several times said he was not concerned about the number of ships involved in the Geneva conference.

Robinson asked Bardo why he thought the press would not give the information for which Shearer was sent.

"Sometimes in those international conferences," he announced, "the press has to depend on releases, and we wanted the truth."

Other Employment.

Bardo said the shipbuilders met with Shearer about ten minutes, adding:

"Shearer proceeded to say in his own way, first, that he had long been interested in the question of sea power."

Shortridge interrupted to ask about the agreement. Replying to Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, the witness said Shearer was employed by his company also in December, 1926, "in regard to the merchant marine."

At the time of the 1927 conference with Shearer, the New York Shipbuilding Co. was about to take over two government contracts for cruisers—since undertaken. Bardo said that prior to the 1927 meeting with Shearer he did not know the purpose of the meeting of the shipbuilders.

"We wanted to find out reliably," he went on, "what the cruiser contracts, then before us, would do for the shipbuilding industry. We wanted to see what we could do to put the industry on its feet."

Says Not Interested

Robinson observed the Shearer reports dealt largely "with the sea power of the nations," and asked Bardo:

"Were you interested in that?"

"No," was the answer.

"Why, didn't you tell Shearer?"

"I never paid much attention to his reports."

Bardo added Shearer's reports were entitled "Faces Geneva," "Marine Follies," and the "Merchant Marine."

"You made no investigation of Shearer?" Robinson inquired.

"No, we did not have time."

"What was the haste?"

"If he was to cover the preliminary conference, he had to sail a once, I understood. My ordinary business judgment was disarmed by the apparent familiarity Shearer showed with his subject—he talked like a man who was informed."

"Seemed to be no necessity. It is not customary to cover confidential services with a contract. It was distinctly understood that he was to go there and observe and report."

Bardo said that Shearer's employment was terminated by Henry C. Hunter on December 17, 1927.

Tariff Controversy Interest Divided

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The senate tariff controversy shared interest on capitol hill today with the start of the naval subcommittee's investigation of activities of American shipbuilders at the unsuccessful tri-partite arms limitation conference at Geneva in 1927.

This investigation, growing out of allegations made by William B. Shearer of New York, big navy advocate, in a suit for $257,655 which he claimed was due him from three large American companies for services at Geneva, was ordered after President Hoover had directed the department of justice to look into the question whether they had been guilty of disseminating propaganda inimical to the government's interest.

Officers of the American Brown-Boveri Electric Corporation, one of those named in the Shearer suit, and subsidiaries, were the first called to testify. They were to be followed by representatives of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation and its shipbuilding subsidiary and the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation. After they have been questioned, Shearer will be heard.

Borah Backs Probe.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who sponsored the resolution ordering the senate investigation, has called attention that the three companies now are building cruisers for the navy which would not have been started if the Geneva conference had been successful.

The tariff situation in the senate, meanwhile, was altered somewhat by decision of the Republicans to speed up the legislative machinery in an effort to pass the bill before December.

Spurred by Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader, the party regulars purpose to put the senate to work an hour earlier beginning Monday. If the additional hour of labor proves insufficient for the speeding up process, they will take up a proposal for night sessions, or even earlier day meetings.

Judge Delivers Severe Lecture; Finds Man Deaf

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The court crier sang out his famous "Hear ye, hear ye," but it didn't mean a thing to Ralph McCluskey.

McCluskey was up for disorderly conduct, and Judge Joseph Schulman fined him $25. To further impress the defendant with the lowness of disorderliness, Judge Schulman delivered a severe oral reprimand. He laid it on heavy.

The defendant paid no attention. He gazed abstractly about the court room and finally the court's denunciation had ended, McCluskey strolled out.

"That fellow didn't pay attention to a word I said," Judge Schuman remarked to hs bailiff.

"Couldn't," replied the bailiff. He's totally deaf."

BODY OF MISSING HEIRESS FOUND IN FEW MILES HOME

MYSTERY SURROUNDS THE DEATH OF 66-YEAR-OLD WOMAN MISSING 3 MONTHS

FAIRFIELD, Calif., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Mystery surrounding the disappearance three months ago of Miss Edith Wolfskill, 66-year-old heiress to an $800,000 estate whose body was found near her ranch yesterday, deepened today as officers endeavored to determine whether the woman had been slain.

There were indications of foul play, according to Sheriff John R. Thornton, who said he was unable to account for the fact that the woman's body was clothed in man's overalls.

Relatives said Miss Wolfskill under no circumstances would have donned men's clothing. They said it was possible she had wandered away from her ranch and died of exposure.

The theory of death by exposure, however, was discounted by officers who pointed out that the spot where the body was found was only a mile and a half away from the Wolfskill ranch. Fruit trees, heavily laden ,also would have provided food for the woman.

The body was in such an advanced state of decomposition that a cursory examination did not reveal the cause of death. Whether there was evidence of blows or bullet wounds to support the theory of foul play awaited an examination by the coroner.

DROUGHTY CONDITIONS OVER LARGE AREAS DURING AUGUST SETBACK LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY

AUSTIN, Sept. 20.—(SP)—Disappointment was meted out to the livestock industry during August, according to Bervard Nichols, editor of the Texas Business Review, issued monthly by the bureau of business research at the University of Texas.

"Drouthy conditions existed over large areas of the state and ranges were extremely dry," Mr. Nichols said. "As a result, animals lost flesh rapidly, and some little loss was reported. Moreover, prices declined moderately and range trading was practically at a standstill. Because of dry ranges, some producers were forced to send poor animals to market, whereas they should have kept them on grass until lated. This forced marketing helped to weaken prices.

"Ranges generally were poorer on September 1 than they have been for several years. On that date, the United States department of agriculture rated cattle ranges at 76 per cent of normal, a loss of nine points for the month and ten points under the condition on September 1, 1928. Cattle were placed at 83 per cent, down five points from the month previous and six points under the rating last year on September 1. Recent widespread rains have broken the drouth so that the next report is likely to be favorable. The heavy movement of unfinished animals to market has been checked for the present at least.

"Sheep deteriorated five points during the month and were placed at 82 per cent, compared to 89 per cent on September 1, 1929. Goats fell six points and were rated at 85 per cent of normal, or five points under the condition on the same date a year ago. Sheep and goat ranges were rated at 75 per cent, twelve points under the condition last year. Lambs failed to grow as they should have done and it will require several weeks on good feed to make up the growth. The wool market displayed a firmer tone, with prices in Boston a little higher than the month previous. Fall shearing of sheep and goats is well along in southern counties.

"Although demand for dairy products is holding up, supplies appear to be in excess of demand. Cold storage holdings of both butter and canned milk are larger than those of last year. Butter advanced nearly 2 cents a pound, over the month, but prices are still considerably under those of last year at this time. Markets for poultry and eggs are fairly good; eggs especially are in good demand at higher prices.

"Total receipts at Fort Worth fell under those in both July and August a year ago, the loss being due in smaller shipments of cattle and calves. A total of 155,808 animals was unloaded in Fort Worth in August. This compares with 165,368 head in July and 182,037 head in August, 1928.

"Prices were lower on all classes of animals, and reached the lowest quotations in a long time. Prime beef steers on the Fort Worth market for the week ending September 15 were bringing 13 cents for tops, but the bulk went mostly at 9 1-2 cents. Calves brought 11 3-4 cents, down 1 1-4 cents in the month, and the handy-weight class of hogs declined nearly a cent and sold for 10 1-2 cents. Muttons declined 1 1-2 cents and cleared at 7 cents, while top lambs brought 10 1-2 cents to 11 cents, down 1 cent for the month."

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to take this method in thanking each and every one who was so kind to lend a helping hand at the death of our dear wife and mother. Especially do we thank those who sent flowers and words of sympathy. May God's richest blessing rest upon each and every one.

make an invalid of you—S.S.S. stands ready to knock it out.

THOSE muscular pains, commonly called rheumatism, are generally due to a run-down condition, with the number of red-blood-cells below the normal count.

S.S.S. aids the system in building up these red-blood-cells and in getting rid of the condition of which the rheumatism is but a symptom. The body becomes strong and disease-resistant, and the rheumatic pains go.

Pains in your muscles and joints make you miserable, less efficient, interfere with your working hours, ruin your sleep. If allowed to continue, as the years pass the danger increases.

But what a change with rich, red-blood-cells in your body—Nature's building material—making the flesh firm—giving strength to the vital organs.

You can't rub rheumatism out. It is deeper than that. It must be knocked out. And the sure way is by helping the fighting blood—the red-blood-cells!

Increase your army of "workers" (red-blood-cells), and those muscle and joint pains, commonly called rheumatism, vanish. S.S.S. has brought this change about for thousands. Why not for you?

"After suffering several years, six bottles of S.S.S. completely relieved me of rheumatism. It also cleared up a skin eruption and gave me a good appetite. I think S.S.S. is a wonderful medicine."—R. L. Busic, Southern Railway, Knoxville, Tenn.

COMMISSIONERS MET IN REGULAR SESSION COURT HOUSE MONDAY

ROUTINE BUSINESS, RIGHT OF WAY AND BOND PURCHASES CONSIDERED

At the regular meeting of the Navarro county commissioners' court Monday morning, routine business, rigt of way matters, bonds, purchase of outstanding bonds and other business were considered. All members of the court were present.

Superintendent White of the county farm appeared before the court relative to repairs on the water tank at the farm which has rusted out at the bottom. The tank will be repaired. He also reported that the levee at Briar creek on the farm had bursted in several places and that about 20 acres of the best land on the farm would be threatened and overflowed during high water unless it was repaired. Nothing definite was decided with reference to the levee proposition.

The application of E. F. (Mose) Wells, tax assessor, for the appointment of Julia Grossman as deputy tax assessor, was allowed, and the tax assessor was also advanced $650 for the payroll in the remainder of the work of preparing the tax rolls.

Mr. Wells stated that he expected to have the county tax rolls completed about Oct. 20. He had been delayed due to the lateness of the determining of the state tax rate. The tax assessor estimated that the taxable renditions for Navarro county this year would be approximately $32,500,000.

Warren Hicks, attorney, appeared before the court and offered a number of road bonds of this county for sale. He said that he had $50,000 of Road District No. 1 and $25,000 of Road District 11 outstanding bonds which could be secured for par. It was brought out in the discussion that there was approximately $80,000 in the interest and sinking funds of the District No. 1 and $20,000 in the same fund for District 11. These bands are bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent while the funds in the depository are drawing only 2 per cent.

County Auditor J. M. Tullos stated that the money available at the present time and the rate for the retiring of the bonds by the time they were due were figured together and in the event that the bonds were retired before they were due, that within a year or more the tax rate would necessarily have to be raised to care for the interest and bonds due, but that a shorter period in the paying of this bonded indebtedness would result, and he advised the court that unless the rate was anticipated to be raised, the bonds not due should not be purchased. He said that about $9,000 bonds and a similar amount of interest would be due in the two mentioned series within the next 60 days. No action was taken on the proposition at the morning session, but it was intimated that the question would be considered again at the Monday afternoon session.

A resolution was passed authorizing the county engineers to keep two inspectors at $90 per month; one assistant draftsman at $75; two checkers at $75; one rod man at $75, and four chainmen at $75 each in the engineering department as needed in the work. The blanket order was passed in order that it would not be necessary for the court to act on each applicant as in a number of cases a man would only work a few days and another would replace him.

Right of way matters on Corsicana-Emhouse lateral road in Consolidated Road District No. 1 were also discussed but no action was taken.

NEGRO IS KILLED SATURDAY NIGHT IN KERENS COMMUNITY

Jack Stephenson, negro, 33, is [d]ead and county officers are seeking Will Gaines, negro, in connection with a shooting scrape in the Kerens community Saturday night. Stephenson received pistol wounds from a .32 calibre pistol in an altercation officers said started over a dice game, and died en route to a Corsicana hospital.

No arrests had been reported at the sheriff's office Monday noon. Complaint for murder against Gaines was reported to have been filed in justice court in Kerens.

A cutting affray between two negroes in the Frost community during the week end was reported at the sheriffs' office Monday, but no one was brought to the county jail and it is understood that the combatants are being dealt with in the justice court there.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 8 to 7 points under Southern and local selling or liquidation on the easier showing of Liverpool. October sold off to 18.30 and March to 18.51, but trade buying and covering checked the decline and held the market fairly steady during the first half hour.

The report of the census bureau showing 3,653,038 bales ginned prior to September 16, was without much effect on the market. The figures were a little under one of the private forecasts, but slightly over another and appeared to have been pretty well discounted. Further Southern selling was reported which was absorbed by trade buying or covering and the market held generally steady late in the morning with December selling up to 18.75 and March to 19.01, or 1 to 5 points net higher.

Futures closed barely steady, 9 to 16 points lower. Spot uiet; middling 18.40.

New Orleans Cotton Irregular.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Although cables were relatively steady the cotton market opened irregular. Initial trades were 3 points up to one down, and the market turned slightly easier in sympathy with New York. October trading down to 18.22, December 18.52 and January 18.59, or six points under Saturday's close.

Towards the end of the first hour the market rallied a point or two, but showed hesitation while waiting for the ginnings report.

The market ruled steady most of the morning. Little response was shown to the census report on ginnings given as 3,563,038. Prior to September 16. There was a later rally on advices from New York announcing the heaviest trade demand of the season. October traded up to 18.37, December to 78.68 and January to 18.73, or 15 to 16 points up from the early lows and 8 to 10 points above Saturday's close.

At mid-session the market was steady and only a few points under the highs.

ting enforcement up to the local officers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. —(AP)— Senator Howell, republican, Nebraska., has been called upon by President Hoover to lay before the department of justice the "definite fact' on which he based his assertions in the senate that prohibition is not being enforced in the capital, but could be enforced in the chief executive insisted on it.

Expressing a desire on the part of the president to make the District of Columbia "a model in the country" with respect to prohibition enforcement and the intention "to secure the fullest enforcement in the district possible under the organization of enforcement in the district possible under the organization of enforcement agencies as provided by law," a statement issued by the white house said:

"The president is glad the senator has raised the question. He is confident that the senator would not make these charges unless they were based upon definite facts with time and place, and if he will lay any such information before the department of justice, the president will have the matters vigorously investigated."

Remarking that "Senator Howell's statement that the prohibition law is not being enforced in the District of Columbia seriously impugns the good faith and capacity of Commissioner Dougherty, in charge of police, Superintendent of Police Pratt, District Attorney Rover, and Prohibition Agent William Blandford," the white house statement also observed, "it is only fair to give the district officials an opportunity to meet such charges."

Saying he was surprised that his assertions in the senate has aroused unusual attention, since he regarded the situation he was discussing as one with which every one in Washington ought to be familiar, Howell asserted, after being informed of the white house statement, he had meant everything he told the senate, although he had not intended to cast a personal reflection on any government official.

He emphasized in his comment on the statement the question of importation of liquor for embassies. While the embassies have a legal right to possess liquor in the capital, he explained, its transportation is a violation of the law.

Commissioner Doran of the prohibition bureau today took issue with Senator Howell that the capital is one of the wet spots in the country.

The head of the enforcement bureau said the agents were doing as good work in Washington as any place in the country and conditions here were on a par with those in other parts of the nation.

DEFINITE ACTION TO BE TAKEN GET FARMERS' RELIEF

ODESSA, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Definite action by representatives of West Texas counties under pink boll work quarantine regulation will be taken as a result of a conference held here today with state legislators and members of the state and federal agricultural departments.

The question before the conference was whether court relief would be sought for farmers who have sustained the cost of regulatory measures, without compensation.

Midland and Big Spring Chamber of Commerce officials entered the conference prepared to fight any move for an injunction restraining the state from enforcing regulatory measures in the nine counties in west Texas under the pink boll worm control.

The movement to enjoin the state was fostered by State Representative Carl Roundtree of Lamesa and Henry E. Webb of Odessa. Webb is co-author of the remuneration bill passed by the legislature but vetoed by Governor Moody on grounds it was an ex post factio measure and therefore unconstitutional. This bill, intended to repay farmers for costs already met, carried an appropriation. Subsequently the legislature passed a bill providing for remuneration of farmers for future costs of the pink boll worm regulation but without an appropriation.

F. M. Campbell of Jester spent Saturday afternoon in Corsicana.

FANS WATCHING BAYLOR SHOWING AGAINST TEACHERS

LONGHORNS TO HAVE TOO SQUADS IN ACTION; OWLS PLAY AT NIGHT

(By The Associated Press.)

With two of its members already bearing marks of battle and five others preparing to swing into action this week-end, the Southwest conference was rapidly getting down to serious football business today.

While the past two weeks have been devoted principally to conditioning and the task of separating the gridiron wheat from the chaff, the present week will see each conference coach putting finishing touches on his machine. They should be functioning smoothly by Saturday.

The Baylor university Bears will command the spotlight this week. The impressive manner in which Morley Jennings' stalwarts mowed down Stephen F. Austin in their opener left no doubt of their power. Gilliland and McElreath each scored three touchdowns as the Teachers were snowed under, 88 to 0.

If the Bruins can do anything like that to the North Texas Teachers next Saturday the conference dopesters will know something, ie., that the Southern Methodist university Mustangs, for all their past glory, are to play a very minor role this year. The Ponies had to resort to a desperate last-quarter aerial attack to defeat the Teachers, 13 to 3, in their inaugural at Dallas.

Owls at New Orleans

With the exception of the Rice Owls, booked for a night game with Loyola university at New Orleans, all conference elevens will meet secondary state schools this week. The Owls are said to be the first conference team in history to open away from home. The night game is another radical departure.

Two Texas university squads will take the field several hundred miles apart. The Longhorns first squad will stay at home to face St. Edwards' university, while a second team will trek to Abilene to joust with the Simmons university Cowboys. Coach Matty Bells Texas Aggies face a stiff opening assignment, playing the Southwestern university Pirates at College Station. The Horned Frogs, who are looming as dangerous under Coach Francis Schmidt's tutelage, are to play the Daniel Baker Hill Billies at Fort Worth. As for the last nine years, the Arkansas university Razorbacks will test their speed against the College of the Ozarks at Fayetteville.

Two Halfbacks Act And Think Alike on Texas Steer Eleven

AUSTIN, Sept. 23.—(Spl.)—Two excellent halfbacks who think alike and who act alike shouldn't play in the same backfield, Coach Clyde Littlefield of the University thinks.

Consequently Dexter Shelley of Austin and Milton Perkins, Bastrop will alternate in the Orange lineup and will give added punch and spark throughout the game. Each is a triple man; each gave opposing conference teams misery aplenty last year.

Each is fast, aggressive, elusive. Each is good in the broken and open field. Each passes well; each punts long high spirals.

Shelley will likely get the first call most of the time because of his greater experience. But Jerkins will be plugged into the backfield whenever there is any sign of tiring.

Other than Shelley, there is plenty of material for the ball carriers. Claude Meadows of Waco and Nona Rees of San Antonio are as smart quarterbacks as one can find. Jim Beard of Jacksonville, Fla., is an excellent defensive man and a great one in leading interferences. Ed Buelar can fill any position and is dangerous in any department of the game.

Coach Clyde Littlefield of the game.

Coach Clyde Littlefield of the University team is not in the least worried over his backfield. There is plenty of tried and proved material and plenty of promising untried youngsters such as Bull Elkins of San Antonio, Andy Brown of Dallas, or Lewis Weaver of Orange.

If the front line comes around and develops power to match that of the backfield, the Longhorns will be hard to stop ths season, partisan Texans say.

Teague Backs Raced Long Distance For Touchdowns vs. Kosse

TEAGUE, Sept. 23.—(Spl.)—The opening football game of the season played here Friday between the Teague Lions and the Kosse eleven was one of the most thrilling games ever witnessed by the local football fans. The Kosse squad was leading 7 to 6 when the game lacked only five minutes being over.

It was then that Botter received a long pass, wormed his way through, and scored a touchdown after a sixty-yard run. Then Kennedy, halfback, intercepted a pass and ran fifty yards for another touchdown, thus the score ended 18 to 6 in favor of the Lions.

The hero of the day, the man who went in time after time and "got his man" and who tore big holes in the line of the opponents was the mighty Dodd, fullback.

C. A. Gregg, principal of the Providence high school, was in Corsicana Saturday afternoon.

Roaming the Realm of County Sports

By DELMORE OLSEN.

Football fans watching the Corsicana Tigers in action Friday afternoon against the fighting lads from Ennis are wondering just what chances the Tigers have against the stronger teams appearing on the schedule before the opening of the District 4 championship race. The fighting lads from Ennis held the highly touted Tigers to a 19-6 score.

It was too hot for a football game that afternoon and naturally the teams had little pep and power on the plays. With the advent of cooler weather, we expect to see the Tigers, conquerers of the Waco Tigers, step out and mow down all opposition. Coaches Pierce and Jefferies realize the task ahead of them in fashioning a winning combination from the number of new recruits coming out. A wealth of raw material is on hand and it is the ob of the Tiger mentors to instill a considerable amount of football learning into them in the least possible time.

The State Home Lads were defeated Friday afternoon 18-7 by the Cleburne Yellowackets in the opening game of the season for the Lads. The Cleburne team showed marked improvement over their performance when the Masonic Home of Fort Worth defeated them 6-0. The Lads fought the Yellowjackets for all they were worth but could not keep them fromo crossing the goal line three times. The Lads scored in the final period by intercepting a pass and beginning a march that ended with the ball over the Cleburne goal line.

The Odd Fellow football team gained revenge for the terrible 33-0 beating at the hands of the Malakoff Tigers last year by whipping the Tigers 30-6 in the opening game of the season of the Odd Fellow field. Jay Arnold and Jack Hussey, backfield performers held the spotlight on line plunging and end runs while Crews pulled the prettiest play of the game by scoring the final I. O. O. F. touchdown on a nice broken field run after receiving a pass from Hussey.

J Dodson and Dollars shone for the Malakiff Tigers in the game, and in the final period when the Tigers unleashed the only sustained offense of the game to score the only touchdown for the visitors after a bad play on the part of the Odd Fellows had placed the ball in the scoring position, a pass put the ball over the last marker. The Malakoff Tigers took to throwing passes with abandon after finding the line pushed out of the way by the fighting Odd Fellows and every once in a while, one would sift through and spill the Tigers for a loss.

Only one football game will be played in Corsicana this week end, with Greenville invading the lair of the Corsicana Tigers Friday afternoon. The Greenville team won the title of their district last year and are said to have a powerful machine on the field this year. The Odd Fellows journey to Frost Friday afternoon to play the strong Frost team.

While football is the main topic of conversation with a number of large schools in the county, basketball is coming in for its share in the smaller schools. Speculation is rife among the close followers of Class B basketball in Navarro county as to the probable successor to Providence as county champions. Bryan and Blooming Grove are being named as pre-season favorites.

Of course, it might be probable that the Providence team might keep the title but with most of their vaeterans graduated, the coach will have to work wonders to put out a winning combination.

Corsicana High school, too, was hard hit by graduation, but Coach Douglas is not downhearted over the prospects for the Tiger team. Jefferies, flashy player for the Providence team last year, is entered in the local high school and will answer the call for candidates. McDonald, fast little forward on the Bryan team, has also entered the school. These two recruits and the number of regulars and reserves returning from last year's combination are expected to form the 1929 30 team.

BARONS WEAKER AT BAT THAN LAST YEAR BUT PITCHER BETTER

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Battling precedent which has given Texas league representatives victory in all except one of the Dixie series, the Birmingham Barons, Southern association champions, will meet the Dallas Steers here Wednesday.

The Barons this year do not look as formidable as did last year's team, hitting more than 30 points below the .331 clip set in 1928. However, it is generally agreed the 1929 champions have a much better balanced team with the added advantage of a stronger and more rounded pitching staff.

Dick Ludolph, who led the association hurlers with 21 victories and 8 defeats in the race just closed, and Art Weis, league's leading batter, will lead the Barons into battle.

VICTOR FRASIER LIMITS SPUDDERS TO FIVE BINGLES

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

DALLAS, Sept. 23. (AP)—Triumphant in the fourth and decisive game of their play-off against Wichita Falls here yesterday by a score of 2 to 1, the Dallas Steers, Texas league champions, were Dixie series bound today.

Manager Milt Stock's warriors, including the 20-year-old Victor Frasier, individual hero of the torrid series just concluded, planned to board a train for Birmingham at 11 p. m., for a 24-hour ride to the home of the Southern association champions. Two games will be played at Birmingham Wednesday and Thursday, the teams returning here for three more starting Saturday.

Spudders Disband

While the victorious Stockmen prepared to joust with the Barons and reap the resultant glory and financial gain, Jim Galloway's Spudders, decisively beaten in the concluding games of the series here, had gone back to Spudderville to turn in their uniforms. For the second straight year the Oilers have battled their way to the second half title, only to falter in the playoff.

Seldom has a club of championship calibre taken it on the chin more thoroughly than the Spudders did at the Steer corral here the last two afternoons. Veteran baseball observers agreed the north countrymen were outfought and outgeneraled at every turn. They chose to play "tight" baseball, refusing to take a chance at any point. Their attack collapsed, and the Steers located the weak spot in the Spud armor, third base, to drive through to victory.

Fine Hurling Won

Whitey Glazner and Vic Frasier turned in two mound masterpieces in the concluding tilts. Where the veteran Whitey set the Spud wrecking crew down with four scattered hits and blanked them on Saturday, his youthful compatriot came back to limit the visitors to five blows yesterday, only one of which was out of the infield. In other words, a club that mauled the ball at a .300 clip all season slammed only three clean hits in two games.

In many ways, Frasier's performance yesterday was more remarkable than that of Glazner the previous day. The rookie phenom had everything, including an abundance of nerve. His withering speed and sharp breaking curve set 10 Spudders down by the strikeout route.

Eighth Inning Rally

In the eighth frame, after the Spudders had scored one on Fitzgerald's double through Davis and had the tying and winning runs on base, Frasier walked Red Bennett purposely to get to Pete Turgeon. With the bases loaded and a single almost certain to deprive him of victory, Frasier bore down and fanned the hard hitting Wichita second baseman for the third out. That broke the Spudders spirit, and two more of them whiffed in the final frame.

A crowd estimated at 18,500 witnessed the final battle.

Dick Salter of Emhouse spent Saturday in the city.

SECRET PRACTICE INAUGURATED FOR CORSICANA TIGERS

GREENVILLE WON THE CLASS A DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP LAST YEAR

BY PAUL MOORE.

After a day's rest Saturday, the Corsicana Tigers re-assembled Monday afternoon to begin intensive training for the next game on their schedule Friday afternoon at Tiger field when they clash with the Greenville club, a strong class A contender last season. Greenville will in all probability send a strong club against the Tigers here this week-end and the fans will be treated to a real attraction. The visiting club was the winner of the district championship last season and is coached by Jim Reese, former star Texas University Longhorn athlete.

Coaches John Pierce and Ted L. Jeffries will likely send their charges through plenty of work in an effort to iron out many of the rough spots in the play of the Tigers as were revealed by their performance last Friday afternoon against the strong class B team —Ennis. The Ennis line consistently charged the Tiger forward wall and fought the big Tigers to a finish. The game last week was the only game on the Tiger schedule against a B club and the remainder of the schedule is to be with class A clubs in addition to one game against Allen Academy.

Plenty of Work.

Coach Pierce will likely attempt to get the line charging faster and surer while Jeffries will have considerable work in improving the back-field performers.

Various combinations were tried in the Ennis game Friday and the coaches were enabled to see many of their prospective players in action under fire. The task of selecting the right combination of players is still before the Tiger mentors. With the veteran club of last season wrecked by graduation, the Tiger mentors have a big job in whipping the green players into a smooth-running combination, and they will have done well if they get this accomplished by the time that the district competition begins due to the scores now out for the club.

Secret Practice.

Secret practice for the club will be the order during the remainder of the season. Spectators will not be allowed to watch the Tigers in action and the customary Tuesday afternoon open practice has been abolished, Coach Pierce stated Sunday. He said that the presence of the fans detracted from the work and interferred with the work of the club and asked that the fans not come out for the practice periods—that by staying away the fans would be doing a favor to the team and coaches.

The Tiger mentors realize their big job of whipping a winning combination from the vast numbers out and the working over-time in an effort to find out the possibilities and ability of the players who are out for the team.

As soon as the coaches are satisfied with what each player is capable of doing, a "weeding out" process will likely be inaugurated and the main squad will be cut down to a small number and then intensive training inaugurated for the first team.

"Seein's believin'" and here is a picture of the mother and the heifer triplets belonging to J. B. Keach, that were born last Monday. The calves are all in good condition and growing rapidly. Veterinarians declare that the occurrence is very rare. Many people have seen the unusual group during the past week. The sire of the triplets is a registered animal, and Mr. Keach expects to raise the calves for dairy purposes.

CORSICANA BOYS AND GIRLS IN LARGE NUMBERS SEEKING EDUCATION MANY COLLEGES

Prompted by the desire to get a higher education, over 150 graduates of Corsicana high school are returning to or entering for the first time many colleges or universities scattered throughout the State and Nation to acquire a better understanding in literature, medicine, athletics, engineering, fine arts and law, and other branches of learning. With trunks packed and on their way, and handbags full to capacity, many are anxiously awaiting time to entrain for points in the East where they will attend the finest schools in that section of the country.

Probably the largest number of graduates of any one class in the history of the high school has registered in various institutions of higher learning for the 1929 fall term.

In the realm of sports, Corsicana is contributing its share of boys who are not only covering themselves with laurels, but also placing the name of their home town uppermost in the list of Texas cities that stand for better athletics and cleaner sportsmanship. Local boys in State University, Trinity, Baylor, S. M. U., Centenary, and Texas Tech have proven outstanding in various college sports. A Corsicana boy has been honored at A. and M. with an important position in intermural athletics.

Make Good Records.

The Corsicana high school is known throughout the state as producing students who make enviable scholastic records in college. Last year a large group of local boys and girls were designated as "distinguished students," and were awarded accordingly for their excellent grades. Many of them will return to college for the 1929 fall term.

Local boys and girls were taking their places in the foremost ranks of college social and fraternal activities; a large number having been made members of Greek letter and honorary fraternaties and sororities. Last year several local girls were decided by the students popular vote as being most beautiful, most popular, and best all-round girls in their respective colleges and universities.

Trinity Claims Many.

Trinity University claims a large number of local boys and girls this year. William Smith, Max Lowry, and Hugh Drane are entering for the first time, this term. Fern Boltz who attended Brenau last year is entering Trinity for the 1929 fall term. Those who went there last year and are returning are, Joe Edens Anderson, Tracy Varnell, Graham Mitchell, Ralph Varnell, Maibell Kidd, Frances Drane, Gordon Carr, Ruth Drane, and Naomi Davidson.

Corsicana will be well represented in Texas A. & M. College this year by new as well as by returning students. Those returning to A. & M. are: Clifford Bell, Russell Smith, Lewis David, Joe VanderLaan, Alvin Miller, Paul Dresser, Clifford Brown, William Evans, Roy Varnell, Bruner Sutton, Richard Dockum, John Blair, Lewis Miller, Adrain C. May, Robert Hable and Marion Walton. The boys entering for the first time include, Allan Bryant, George Carson, Thurman Evans, Manuel Gottlieb, Willie K. Palmer, and Jesse Milburn. Two boys who graduated in the mid-term last year are going to A. & M. They are Leslie Wareing and Henry Graves.

Greater Number to State.

State University receives more Corsicana boys and girls this year than any other college or university represented, having a total enrollment of about 40. Jule Levine and Loreen Forster, former members of the S. M. U. student body transferred and are now going to State. Elizabeth Sowell, who went to Abilene Christian College is attending State this term. Anna Laura McCarver, of Sullins, and Esther Mae Tarver of Southwestern University have registered with State for the ensuing 1929 fall term. The following 1929 high school graduates are entering State University for the first time: Edwin Price, Marjorie Taylor, Jacob Davis, Bernard Kaplan, Josephine Davis and Aletha McAfee. The following students are returning for their advanced units in the university: Hannah Brooks, Paul Greenlee, Mae Collins, Martha Mitchell, Joe Mays, Lois Young, Max Bowden, Genelle Ramsey, Elise Jester, Sara Jester, Vivian Walker, Joe Kelton Wells, Rose Hardwick, Chester Barnes, J. E. McClung, Billy Murchison, Mary Jo Young, Hazel Poindexter, Rudolph Beck, Allyn Gordon, Felicia Holloway, Madeline Jaffe, Azille Taylor, Margaret Hardwick, Clyde Halbert, John Roper, Julius Jacobs, and Elizabeth Thomas.

Girls to C. I. A.

The College of Industrial Arts in Denton, is taking the largest number of local girls this term than it has for many years. Those returning to complete their advanced work are Geneva Hable, Elizabeth Love, Marie Stamps and Elizabeth Still. Katherine Jester, who has been attending Sophie Newcomb has transferred to C. I. A. Nell Dunn, Leah Rakestraw, Edith Benton, Georgia Ruth Pollock, Dura Roxburgh, Pearl Thornell and Eula Irene Bonner are entering upon their freshman year in C. I. A.

Albert Galloway, Thelma Lee Jackson and Maxie Byrne are returning to Denton Normal. Frances Bedford has gone back to Texas Christian University to complete her advanced work.

Charlie Smith, who went to State University last year, and Newton Burnett, of Bryson College, have registered in Baylor Medical School for 1929. Albert Douglas and Walter Lee Lichlyter, both of whom are 1929 graduates of C. H. S. left this week for Norman, Okla., where they will attend the University of Oklahoma. Sybil Carter, mid-term graduate will go to T. W. C. this year.

List for S. M. U.

Returning to S. M. U. are Frances Barton, Margaret Pannill, Katherine Hall, Clyde Stroud and Burle Daviss. Marion Orr, who studied piano in the Chicago Conservatory of Music last year has gone to Dallas to complete her musical instruction in S. M. U. Jr., both mid-term graduates, have registered in S. M. Texas Tech is taking several Corsicana boys this year. J. F. Lumsden, who was in Rice Institute last year, will be a member of the Texas Tech's student body this year. Entering for their freshman work are Bill Brown, Clyde Ross and John Ross.

Edith Houston, former teacher in Corsicana high school, left the first part of the week for Urbana, Ill., where she will take a course in library work, in the University of Illinois. KERENS COTTON IS BELIEVED MORE THAN HALF GATHERED NOW

KERENS, Sept. 21.—(SP)—Over fifty per cent of the cotton crop has been gathered according to reports from several of the farmers, while many of the fields have been almost cleaned at this time. Some of the cotton raisers say that they are through picking cotton, and ready to begn breaking land as soon as sufficient rain has fallen. A number of the blackland farmers, however, report that they hve a considerable amount of cotton yet to be gathered. A general survey would find that the Kerens cotton crop is more than half gathered.

Up till noon Thursday there had been 13,195 bales weighed by the three cotton yards here. Cotto was selling at around 18.50 per pound, and seed was bringing $32 a ton.

Westminster College Faculty Being Filled

MEXIA, Sept. 21.—(SP)—Mrs. Nattie Eckhardt, of Wortham, graduate of the University of Texas, and the Boston School of Expression, will teach expression at Westminister college this year, filling the vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. Jim Tucker, Dr. F. W. Stephenson president, announced here.

Miss Faith Sadler of Teague, graduate of Baylor College For Women, will teach physical education for women, a new post in the faculty. An athletic coach is to be announced in a few days.

WEAK SPELLS

"I was so weak," says Mrs. Josephine Cockcroft, of Baldock, S. C., "that I was not able to do anything.

"At certain times, I suffered dreadfully with pains in my back and sides. My head would hurt—felt like it would split open. Spells of weakness would last for weeks.

"I read of Cardui. I sent for a bottle and began taking it. My case was stubborn, and at times I almost lost hope, but I could see a little improvement. At last I began to feel much better. Then I improved rapidly. For the last year I have been in better health than I ever have been before.

"I give the credit to Cardui, for after I had given it a thorough trial, I got well."

Over a Billion Deadly Germs in a Single Drop of Water

Germs are so small that there may be as many as one billion, seven hundred million of them in a drop of water. And just a few of these tiny germs, if they get into your blood through a cut in your skin, may make you so sick you will be in bed for weeks—may cause the loss of a limb through blood poisoning—may even infect you with that most dreadful and fatal of diseases, lockjaw.

Just because you can see no dirt in a cut does not mean that it is clean. You cannot see germs. The only safe and sane thing to do, is to thoroughly wash every cut, no matter how small, with Liquid Borozone, to kill the germs, and then dust it with Borozono Powder, to hasten the healing. Liquid Borozone costs 30 cents, 60 cents, $1.20 and $1.50; Borozono Powder, 30 cents and 60 cents, and can be had at

Your Hat Cleaned, Sir!

But it IS yours! True, it doesn't look at all like the battered and soiled article you brought in; but we can do more tricks with hats than Houdini in his palmiest days. Cleaning and blocking.
